CHAS J. GLIDDEN

Pursued by Storm While Making Balloon Trip

NORTH ADAMS, July 2.—Charles J. Glidden, the Boston automobilist and aeronaut, had the unusual experience of being chased for fifteen miles by a thunderstorm while several thousand feet above the earth in his new balloon "Boston" today. Mr. Glidden's ascension was made before dawn and he was unaccompanied, thus fulfilling at one time two of the pilots requirements of the Aero club of America, namely a, night ascension and making an ascension alone.

It had been planned to make the ascension at midnight but on account of a thunderstorm in the vicinity of Holyoke Mr. Glidden did not ascend until 2.57 a. m. His balloon took a northeasterly direction and at 4.15 he landed on a farm four and a half miles north of Wilmington, Vt., about 15 miles in an air line from this city.

The greatest elevation reached by the balloon was 4160 feet. Immediately after rising Mr. Glidden said that the thunder clouds began to surround him and until he landed he was pursued by an electrical storm. By keeping his balloon at the same elevation as the clouds he was able to keep ahead of the storm. He used a double trailing line for the first time and he reported a safe landing that it had been a great help to him in keeping the "Boston" steady and also facilitated his landing.

Mr. Glidden tomorrow will go to Brattleboro, Vt., to testify against the two men who are under arrest on the charge of firing at the balloon in which Mr. Glidden and Leo Stevens of New York made an ascension a few days ago.

For the Celebration

at Quebec, the round trip rate from Boston will be $11.45, good going July 18-21, good returning until Aug. 3d. Tickets on sale at

EIGHT MONTHS

Omega Wade Will Stop Squirting Ammonia

Omega R. Wade, the aged recluse who entered the Richardson hotel last Friday afternoon and squirted ammonia into the eyes and mouth of John Roarke, one of the hotel employes, was arraigned in police court before Judge Hadley and sentenced to eight months in jail.

Wade appeared to be cool and collected and cared neither to cross-examine witnesses for the government nor testify in his own behalf. When he was informed by the court that the offense was a very serious one he paid little or no heed to what the court was saying.

Roarke, the complainant, testified in part as follows: "I am 21 years of age and employed at the Richardson hotel. Friday afternoon about three o'clock I was in the barber shop when Wade came in and asked me if I would play a game of pool with him. I did not care about playing and told him so. I had just finished cleaning the barber shop and went down stairs to wash my hands. He followed me down and just as I was going to wipe my hands he squirted something into my eyes and mouth. I afterwards heard it was ammonia."

Witness then testified to being taken to the office of Dr. Randlett in Middlesex street and later to St. John's hospital. While Roarke wears a shief over the right eye and is unable to open the eye he informed the court that the doctors told him his sight would not be damaged.

Martin A. Coughlin, an employe of the hotel, corroborated the testimony offered by Roarke, adding that no words passed between Wade and Roarke in the basement and that as soon as Wade committed the act he ran upstairs and into the street. Coughlin gave chase and catching him held him till Patrolman Cawley arrived.

PAGES 2-3

Patrolman Cawley testified to arresting Wade and upon searching his clothing found a bottle containing ammonia and a part of a syringe. The officer testified that Wade seemed to take a great deal of pride in what he had done.

The government rested its case at this point.

"Do you want to tell your story?" asked Deputy Welch of Wade.

"No, I have no story to tell."

"Why did you do this?"

"I have nothing to say about it."

Judge Hadley then inquired: "Do you want to say anything to me?"

"No, sir."

"You have been in the house of correction?"

"Yes."

"How long?"

"Six months."

"What were you sent there for?"

"I suppose for being drunk."

"This is a very severe offense," said Judge Hadley; "now do you want to say anything about it?"

"No, sir."

Wade was sentenced to eight months in jail.

MILKMAN FINED.

Charles J. Johnson, a milkman in Tewksbury, was in court this morning charged with violating the milk laws, having milk in his possession with less than 12 per cent. of solids. He was fined $15.

SENT TO STATE FARM.

James Smith pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but informed the court that if he was given another chance he would sail for England and never return to this country. It was his third offense within a year and he was sentenced to the state farm.

TWO WEEKS IN JAIL.

Patrick J. Burns, who was before the court a few days ago, was present this morning and the court decided that it would be better to impose a sentence than a fine. Patrick will spend the next two weeks in jail.

SENT TO JAIL.

Richard Davis was charged with being drunk, but he was on the verge of seeing fireworks before the Fourth and the court sentenced him to 14 days in jail.

John Foley, a second offender, was taxed $5. There were five drunks who were fined $2 each and three were released.

BLESSED SLEEP

Enjoyed by Mazdaznans After Night Ceremonies

The quiet of Chelsea, or, more impressive still, the quiet of the scene of the burial of Sir John Moore was upon Columbus avenue this morning and the glory of a beautiful sun was reflected on the somewhat pretentious temple, "Spenta Maria," when a reporter for The Sun wended his sinful way through the avenue where trod the blessed of "the little master," Dr. Hanish.

The temple was wrapped in silence and no child stood there disputing with the doctor and arguing with him. The temple is a renovated barn, yet who would dare to point the finger of scorn at barn or stable? They are sacred to humanity because He who rules all kingdoms, forgiving even the sins of the reporters and the eccentricities of the Mazdaznans, was in a stable born.

MRS. MARIA RUTH ELIZABETH HILTON.

Dr. Hanish and the high priestess were resting because of the strenuousness of last night. It was a rough night on the coast for the Mazdaznans and it would have been rougher, perhaps, but for the timely arrival of the police. Those of the cult with whom the reporter talked this morning, however, would not admit that their meeting last night had been disturbed by a mob, but, nevertheless, it was.

The avenue to the temple was not being patroled by the police this morning and was without protection except the silent watch of the Mazdaznan garbage barrels and thereby hangs a tale responsible for the presence of the police upon the scene last night.

According to the rites of the church all refuse from the table must be burned. In accordance with this custom, church followers carted the refuse into the street in front of the temple and were getting ready for the war dance when neighbors interposed, and said: Garbage shall not burn tonight."

Dr. Hanish and his little band declared that they would not stand for any interference on the part of the "swine" and they were going to burn that garbage or know the reason why. Now it came to pass that the Mazdaznans knew not of the new law forbidding the building of bonfires or rubbish fires in the streets between the first of April and last of October. The Mazdaznans were too busily engaged in reading "Inner Studies" to pay any attention to the announcement in the newspapers prohibiting the building of fires in the street, and with all their knowledge, sipped from flowers, fertilized through sand, and sucked from rhubarb, they were ignorant of the law in question.

When the police officer told the "holy" ones last night that they must not burn the garbage in the street, they laughed at him, but when they found that the "cop" meant business they retreated to the temple where the "little master" was running, not literally, a bunch of reporters through a hay cutter.

Four of the faithful with whom The Sun reporter talked today, said that quite a number of the local and visiting delegates had gone to Boston this morning. "I would have gone" said one, "but I was too tired."

"Is it true," asked the reporter, "that the doctor was robbed of his gown last night by an angry mob, and the mob trampled his gown into the dirt?"

That was the signal for the little woman to set busy and if there was one thing more than another that struck the reporter, it was the loosenes abandon and brevity of the woman's attire. Rigged as she was he knew there was no danger of a howling blood vessel should she become over angry. So far as clothing was concerned she was free as a prairie colt and she "whooped 'em up" at her own sweet will.

"Indeed no," she said, answering to the question as to having to do with the alleged assault upon the doctor and his yellow jacket. "There is no danger that harm shall befall him," she said. She spoke of Hanish as "The Master." "He is as God," she rhapsodized. "He is beautiful—a living example of how our belief keeps us young. He is forty but does not look twenty-three. And he is a Hindoo. He was a prince before he came here and is worth millions."

The reporter asked her if the Mazdaznans had not made a trifling mistake in enjoining celibacy, since if that rule were adhered to there would soon be no world and no Mazdaznans.

"The others," she said, as she gingerly snapped a brown-tail from the reporter's coat, "those outside the faith will people the world for us." At this point, however, the interview was slightly interrupted by a bright little baby that toddled out and addressed the lady whom the scribe supposed to be unmarried, as "Mamma." But then, no doubt, this woman was but recently introduced to the mysteries of the cult.

This little woman was somewhat disturbed to learn that several copies of "Inner Studies" had reached others than "the faithful" in Lowell.

"I am sorry to hear that," she said, "the outside world is conventional, that it is not prepared to receive the doctrine of the Mazdaznan," and that was one point on which the little woman, the holy and the unholy, agreed.

"Convention," she said, "has held the world back and it is our purpose to wipe it away. Dr. Hanish has universal knowledge and is immensely wealthy. He is doing this work out of the goodness of his heart, not for profit. He has a $45,000 temple in Chicago, and a temple in Teheran, Persia. He has the Hindoo lore of thousands of years," and the reporter felt like saying, "to make a long story short he's a corker."

Today's program called for open air services and celebration in honor of Ahura Mazda and visiting delegates, but there was nothing doing up to the time that the reporter, in order to catch his first edition, folded his tent and, ducking the brown-tail moths, boarded the special for Merrimack square.

The program for this week and Monday, which is the last day, is as follows:

FOR CHILDREN

1000 TICKETS TO WILD WEST SHOW.

While there are a number of citizens of Lowell who are of a philanthropic nature, never before has one of those men hit upon a plan to give poor boys an outing as acceptable as the plan suggested by a Lowell man who intends to distribute 1000 tickets for the Buffalo Bill wild west show to worthy boys between the ages of nine and eleven years.

One of the most interesting and inspiring attractions that comes to a city during the course of a year is a circus or wild west show and what boy has not made his escape from the house in the wee small hours of the morning to witness the unloading of the trains, the raising of the tent and methodical arrangement of every detail? Then again the same boy has baked under the hot sun either waiting or following the street parade. If he was lucky he might get inside, but hundreds never see more than the outside of the canvas.

It is for this reason that one of Lowell's most prominent citizens, who does not care to have his name divulged hit upon this novel plan of making the boys happy.

None but boys who will conduct themselves in a proper manner will be allowed to go.

At a meeting held yesterday the final arrangements for the distribution of tickets was made. The committee has planned for a systematic inquiry as to the worthy boys. Slips will be issued to each boy asking him to fill out the blank by giving his name, address and other detail. The following instructions are printed on the form:

This pass will entitle the bearer—who must be between the ages of 9 and 11—to one ticket to the Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

On July 8, at 12 o'clock noon, you will report on Paige street, where there will be a number of special cars waiting.

You will make no noise and there must be no crowding. The first to come will get into the first car and sit quietly, six in a seat.

Have this pass filled out plainly, giving your name, street and age, and the conductor will take it up, giving you in return a ticket for the show.

When you reach the grounds, you will keep your seat in the car until you leave in the following order:

The boys in the first car will leave beginning at the forward seat, and leave in order, seat after seat, until the car is empty. The boys on the next car will do the same, and so on, until all the cars are emptied. The boys on the first car will form a line of two by two and the boys on the cars following will fall into line in the same manner.

After the show is over you will keep your seats until all the other people have left the tent, then come out in line and there will be cars waiting to take you to Merrimack square.

To each boy will be given a booklet, containing four small poems which he is expected to memorize.

FRANK B. KELLOGG

Does Not Want the Chairmanship

NEW YORK July 2.—Frank B. Kellogg, of this division from Minnesota, is still the storm center of the situation over the [illegible] of the Republican national committee, the only reason his nomination is believed here to be not settled satisfactorily is believed here to be Kellogg's desire to serve. National Committeeman Kelley and Ward spent three hours in close conference with President Roosevelt yesterday. Mr. Kellogg does not care to give up his work of prosecution of the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

CONVREY HIKED

And 8 Hour Movement Lost a Champion

AND BOX 52 RANG IN

And "Joe" is a Call Fireman

"Joe Convery was up here last night to advocate eight hours for city employes and before he had a chance to speak he was called upon to work overtime himself," said Papa Delunge, the sage of city hall, in discussing last night's hearing, an account of which appears in another column, at city hall, today.

And thereby hangs a good story at the expense of the popular labor man.

"Joe," aside from being a carpenter in the employ of the city, is also a call fireman and a member of Hose 8, of Merrimack street. Mr. Convery is prominent in labor circles and has taken an active part in every movement to advance the cause of the working people of Lowell in the past decade. He was one of the principal advocates of the eight-hour movement for city employes and was to have been one of the principal speakers at last night's hearing. But the speakers had assembled and everything was in readiness for the hearing when an alarm from box 52 rang in. Hose 8 runs to 52 and upon counting the box "Joe" dashed out of the mayor's reception room and up Merrimack street on the dead run and was soon working like a Trojan at the fire in Merrimack street. By the time that the recall had sounded and the firemen were excused the hearing was all over and "Joe" was unable to deliver the fine argument that he had carefully nursed for the occasion.

TEMPERANCE WAVE

Brewers Start One and Blacklists Are Posted

FITCHBURG, July 2.—The mighty reformation of the liquor business in this country as planned by the brewers and distillers, by which intoxicating drink may be sold to none but those who wish refreshment and not inebriation, had its exemplification in this city and surrounding towns today, when in every saloon was posted a black list of persons convicted of intoxication since May 1.

It is the first New England taste of the proposed new regime, which, if universally supported, is expected to solve the problem of intemperance.

By the rules of the brewers no person who is addicted to drink, or any who drink to become intoxicated, may be served. Neither may a man or woman who has ever been arrested and convicted of drunkenness obtain liquor. Those free to quaff the product must have in mind only a desire for the refreshment the one drink provides.

The lists posted here are long ones, and in order that the rule may be complied with literally, each patron of a drinking place is required to tell the barkeeper his name. Then, upon receiving his glass, he may drink it, but call for no more.

By adhering to the plan they have formulated and refusing to sell liquor to dealers who do not live up to the rule, the brewers believe that the evil of drunkenness will be lessened and possibly done away with.

In this city the saloon keepers say today that they are working in conjunction with the police and are not averse to the scheme. The black lists will be carefully corrected at stated intervals, and the authorities are determined that the habitual drinkers shall be given no loophole.

Now the heavy drinkers in this city are busy devising means to get around the iron-clad rule in vogue.

Though the movement means at the beginning a big cut in profits for the dealers in liquor, through the fact that the heaviest spenders are ruled out, yet the saloon-keepers welcome the proposition, for the effect it will have upon their business in its standing as a legitimate enterprise.

They believe that if the plan works well and is adopted in all places in the country that have licensed saloons, it will revolutionize the liquor trade, and place it on a more respectable plane than it now enjoys.

The brewers maintain that it is to their advantage and to the advantage of the retail dealers that something drastic be done to eliminate from liquor custom the class of men who pour their earnings over the bar, but who also are living examples of the horror of the licensed sale of drink.

SECRETARY TAFT

Says Chairmanship is Not Settled

WASHINGTON, July 2.—After a conference with Arthur I. Vorys, of Ohio, lasting two hours and a half yesterday afternoon, Secretary Taft said:

"You can say absolutely and definitely that the chairmanship of the republican national committee has not yet been settled. You can say also that no announcement of a decision as to the chairmanship will be made until after I have conferred at Hot Springs, Va., next Wednesday with the sub-committee of the national committee. I hope this is sufficiently definite and that my statement will be accepted."

Mr. Taft then went for a long horseback ride.

Mr. Vorys, the Ohio manager of Mr. Taft, arrived here yesterday to confer with him respecting the national chairmanship.

This was Mr. Taft's first day as a private citizen in many years. His resignation as secretary of war became effective last midnight and for a period of twelve hours the American government yesterday was without a secretary of war. Mr. Taft appeared at the war department promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and prior to the formal introduction into office of Gov. Luke E. Wright, had a long consultation with him and with officials of the war department about departmental affairs.

Mr. Wright took the oath of office at noon in the presence of many officials of the war department.

WILL USE BOMBS

Threat Was Made by Suffragettes

LONDON, July 2.—The extraordinary demonstration Tuesday night before the house of parliament, made by the women suffragists in their effort to secure votes for themselves, had a startling sequel yesterday when one of the women, Mary Leigh, arrested for breaking windows in the house of Premier Asquith, declared in Bow street police court, "that the next time wea come out, you can expect bombs."

This statement has had the effect of drawing a greater degree of attention to the movement in England, and the police will henceforward have to handle the women demonstrators with less good humored tolerance.

LONDON "BOBBY"

Comes in for Some Praise

LONDON, July 2.—The long awaited report of the special commission appointed to investigate the duties and conduct of the metropolitan police has been issued. It constitutes a remarkable vindication against the charges of systematic corruption, brutality and lack of intelligence, the making of which by certain complainants two or three years ago, led to the inquiry.

A great number of witnesses were examined. The commissioners do not conceal the fact that some shortcomings exist, but they find these rare the only exception being the acceptance of bribes from bookmakers, from which, they say, the force cannot as a whole be absolved.

The final conclusions are that discipline is well maintained, that the general arrangements for the maintenance of order, the prevention of offences in the streets and the arrest and punishment of offenders are excellent and are almost invariably carried out satisfactorily.

The report declares that the police are entitled to the confidence of all classes.

KIDNAPPED SON

That is the Charge Against George F. Ormsby

BOSTON, July 2.—A case, novel in many phases and of interest to Cincinnati and the District of Columbia, was yesterday ended at Newburyport, where early in the day, George F. Ormsby was arrested as a fugitive from justice from Washington.

The charge against Ormsby, who is a well-appearing man about 50 years old, employed in one of the federal departments at the capital, alleges the abduction or kidnapping of his own child.

The little one, a boy named Edmund, H. B. Ormsby, who is 3½ years old, it appears, was taken from Washington on June 16 last and taken to Salisbury beach, where he has been cared for by two nurses employed by the father the past two weeks.

It is said that after leaving Washington, Ormsby took the child to Greenwich, Conn., and remained there several days. His appearance there excited the suspicions of the police, but before they could find out anything about him he left and came to Boston.

From here he went to Newburyport and thence to Salisbury beach, where he secured lodgings for the child with Mrs. Aldrich, representing that his name was Wilson Owens of Richmond, Va., and that he was well to do.

Strangely enough the child had but little clothing and this excited the suspicions of Mrs. Aldrich and she communicated with the police. Chief Watts was notified and then set a trap to catch the father, who was believed to be in the vicinity.

Ormsby was arrested in a department store by Marshal Lattimee of Newburyport and Deputy U. S. Marshal Ruhl.

U. S. Marshal Murchie was notified and he reported that an indictment warrant had just been received from Washington for the apprehension of the alleged fugitive.

Late in the afternoon Ormsby in the custody of Deputy Ruhl was brought here and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hayes in the federal building. While in court he appeared calm and his whole demeanor was that of a loving father and the last man in the world that would do an injury to any one.

Lawyer Arthur T. Johnson appeared with him as counsel and the procedure involved the holding of the defendant for his appearance before the U. S. court at Washington to answer the indictment.

Further consideration of the case before the commissioner was continued to this morning, bail being fixed at $1000, which the defendant readily furnished in the form of a certified check drawn to himself through the Old Colony Trust company. The check was accepted by Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. J. Bernard Ferber, who appeared for the government.

The child was taken in charge by Inspector Gleavy of the Boston police and brought to this city. He is now with the matron of the Chardon street home.

As the father left the federal building he met Inspector Gleavy with the child in his arms. The father was almost frantic, and quite a scene followed in front of the old state house on Washington street about 5 o'clock. Ormsby begged for his child and promised the officer he would see that it got the best of care, and with tears in his eyes beseeched the officer to give it to him.

WITH "AFFINITY"

Boston Woman Caught by Husband

NEW YORK, July 2.—Tracked by detectives since June 22, Mrs. Charles Jenkins, wife of a Boston optician, who lives at East Weymouth, Mass., was captured last night with the "affinity" for whom, it is alleged, she deserted her husband.

Today it is expected that Mr. Jenkins, who was present when the arrest took place, and pummelled Charles Randzell, the "affinity," will swear out warrants for the pair under the new law governing such cases.

The arrest was a spectacular one, and in the excitement attending it the "affinity," who was found in a room with the woman and her 4-year-old boy, whom she had taken with her from Boston, leaped out of a window at 351 St. Nicholas avenue and escaped.

THIRTY DEATHS

At City Farm From Delirium Tremens

ANNUAL REPORT OF CITY PHYSICIAN

Contains Some Very Interesting Statistics

City Physician Forster H. Smith has submitted his annual report, the first report in detail ever issued by a city physician in Lowell.

In his introductory remarks, Dr. Smith says: "One hundred and eighteen more patients have received treatment this year than last, making the total treated during the year 756. There were 125 deaths, 90 males and 66 females. Fourteen children were born in the maternity ward; nine males and five females.

We treated 40 cases of consumption during the year. I would recommend that some provision be made for isolating these cases from the other patients.

I recommend also increasing the number of nurses, that the male hospital may have a nurse to attend the patients in that department during the night.

Included in the cases treated during the year are the following: Alcoholism 75, debility 38, influenza 30, old age 24, paralysis 10, rheumatism 22, cocaine poisoning 1, morphine poisoning 1. These are but eight of 27 causes of death from general diseases. Then come diseases of the circulatory system including anaemia, apoplexy, heart disease, etc., with a total of 68 deaths. Diseases of the respiratory system, asthma, bronchitis, pleurisy, pneumonia, etc., were responsible for 93 deaths and to diseases of the nervous system is accredited 123 deaths, including 30 from delirium tremens.

The following table gives the ages of the different patients treated during the year 1907:

Under 20 years of age	55
Between 20 and 40 years	198
Between 40 and 60 years	255
Between 60 and 80 years	152
Over 80 years of age	26

BAILEY ESCAPES

Was in Custody of Police Lieutenant

PUERTO CORTES, Honduras, July 2.—Francis G. Bailey, president of the Export Shipping company of New Jersey, who with his brother, Albert W. Bailey, Charles H. B. Myers and Capt. Albert Oxley was placed aboard the Norwegian steamer Utstein Tuesday, in the custody of Lieut. F. W. Beery of the New York police department, made his escape in a small boat from the steamer Tuesday night. The boat was found on the beach yesterday morning.

A search is being carried on by soldiers in the woods and swamps near by and the American consul, Albert W. Brickwood, is taking active measures to discover the fugitive.

The steamer Utstein, to which the prisoners had been transferred from the American consulate, was due to sail for New Orleans Wednesday.

Oxley was the master of the steamer Goldsboro, which left New York May 2, having on board property of the Export Shipping company valued at $200,000, which it is alleged Bailey illegally obtained. The cargo was discharged at Puerto Cortez and subsequently, at the request of the American authorities, the men were arrested and the vessel was seized by Honduran officials.

HE ACCUSES GIRL

Man Says She Drugged and Robbed Him

BOSTON, July 2.—Miss Nellie Vinson, a pretty and petite Brockton girl, 18 years old, dressed in a stylish blue suit and merry widow hat, was the object of much sympathy, yesterday, when arraigned in the municipal court and held in $500 bonds on the charge of chloroforming and robbing Maurice Tallon, a six-foot shoemaker of Brockton.

The robbery is alleged to have taken place the evening of Jan. 19 last, in a doorway on Summer street, Boston, the pair having made each other's acquaintance in Brockton early in the evening and came to Boston to pass the evening.

Tallon tells the police that while he conversed with the girl in the doorway, his eyes wandering among the stars, he was suddenly overpowered by the girl, who placed over his mouth and nose a handkerchief that he believes was saturated with chloroform, and that when he came to he had lost a watch and chain and some diamond rings.

The police have been watching for the girl ever since the episode occurred and only found her yesterday in Boston. They recovered some of the missing jewelry. The girl claims that it was all given to her by Tallon.

BREEDERS' CLUB

Petition to Dismiss Bankruptcy Suit

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 2.—A hearing was held before Burns P. Hodgman of Concord as master here yesterday on the petition of the Hub Construction company of Boston, a creditor, to dismiss the bankruptcy proceedings of the New England Breeders' club, which built and operated the Salem race track, on the ground that the federal statutes do not permit a corporation of this kind, an amusement enterprise, to take advantage of the bankruptcy act.

A number of witnesses were heard, and the letter which President Andrew Miller of New York is said to have caused to be inserted in the newspapers in December, 1905, assuring the people of New Hampshire that violation of the law would not be allowed at the track, was introduced. Counsel in the case will go to New York in a few days and take the depesition of Mr. Miller and other members of the club.

SHOT HIS WIFE

Police Officer Then Took Poison

NEW YORK, July 2.—Patrick H. Manning, for years a policeman for the Central railroad of New Jersey, fired four shots at his wife, Nettie, 40 years old, at their home, 95A West 6th street, Bayonne, N. J., yesterday morning, and satisfied that he had killed her, reloaded his revolver, laid it in a bureau drawer, went into a bedroom, locked the door and drank carbolic acid. He died.

Two of the four bullets struck Mrs. Manning, one in the thigh, the other in the leg. She will recover. Mrs. Manning had had trouble with her husband because of his drinking, and he had threatened to kill her. Yesterday morning he repeated the threat. He sent the children out to play, and Mrs. Manning, alarmed, ran into a bedroom and barricaded the door with a dresser. Her husband hurled his weight against the door, broke it open, and without a word opened fire. Manning was active in democratic politics.

BOSTON CLINIC:

Gentlemen: I have been benefited so greatly by your treatment of Catarrh that it would be wrong to withhold the knowledge I have of its remarkable power.

"I tried skilled physicians and many medicines, but nothing gave me permanent relief. I had almost given up hope of getting well. Your first treatment gave me relief, and I have steadily improved, until now I have fully recovered. Words would be weak to try to express my thanks and appreciation.

"You are at liberty to use this letter and I hope it will induce others to try your treatment. I will gladly answer anyone wishing personal information, as I owe my good health to you."

Very truly yours,

Helen C. Hackett.

Mr. Jo. Sylvia Horta, P. O. Box 341, Riverpoint, R. I., says:

"I had been treated by a number of doctors for Consumption, but none of them did me any good. The last physician I tried told me that I could not possibly get well. He gave me up to die. I had all sorts of pain through the chest and back. I coughed continuously, raising enormous quantities of dirty yellow matter. I had numerous hemorrhages, I lost twenty or thirty pounds. I had no appetite, no strength, nor could I sleep. I had to give up my work. I was a pitiable object.

"Knowing the magnificent work which was being done by the specialists of BOSTON CLINIC, I went to them as a last resort, and in a very short time they cured me. I am perfectly well, my cough is stopped. I have no hemorrhages, I sleep well, I am fast gaining in flesh, and I am able to work.

"My doctor says that my recovery is nothing short of a miracle, and he praises the BOSTON CLINIC very highly. If anybody who reads this has Consumption, I charge him by all means go to BOSTON CLINIC. They saved my life and they can save the life of anybody afflicted with a disease such as mine."

(Signed) Joseph Sylvia Horta.

John Botello, 134 Shook Street, Fall River, says:

"I was operated on at the Union Hospital and they discharged me not cured. Before I went to the hospital I had 14 doctors at different times and they did me no good. Then I went to the specialists of BOSTON CLINIC and they cured me. I am working now and feel all right in every way. These specialists have done for me what other doctors could not do and I put this testimonial in the papers as a mark of my gratitude. They have kept their word in every respect."

BRYAN'S FRIENDS

Say He Will Be Nominated on First Ballot

John Mitchell Again Talked of for Vice President — Labor Plank Still Claims the Attention of the Convention Leaders

DENVER, Colo., July 2.—Claiming a victory on the first ballot, but overlooking no possible chance to make certain their triumph, the followers of Mr. Bryan have been watching for any move on the part of his rivals that would compel him to go single-handed against the field, as Taft was obliged to show his strength in the early stages of the Chicago convention against the combined forces of the "allies."

The arrival yesterday, however, of the personal representatives of Judge Gray and Gov. Johnson, the only candidates who are now expected to enter the race against Bryan, has failed to disclose any common ground of agreement between them.

The Gray managers asserted that they had no intention of entering into a coalition with the followers of Gov. Johnson and had not received from them, or made to them, any overtures for a combination. The same disclamor of a desire to pool issues was made by the Johnson people after their arrival last night. They said that they had no other object in view but the nomination of Gov. Johnson and intended to make their fight for that purpose only.

This attitude which the Gray and Johnson people have assumed has led to considerable conjecture of a vice presidential character. The followers of Mr. Bryan profess to believe that the refusals of the Gray and Johnson men to make a combined fight against the strength of Mr. Bryan means that they are not averse to occupying positions in which they can avail themselves of Bryan's votes for second place in the event of his nomination for the presidency. On this point, however, both Mr. Lynch, for Gov. Johnson, and Mr. Marvel for Judge Gray, insist that the Bryan people are utterly in the wrong. Their men, they say, are out for the first place and are giving no consideration to the vice presidency.

The chief arrivals yesterday in point of political importance, were those of Frederick B. Lynch, Frank M. Day, D. W. Lawler, mayor of St. Paul, and Richard T. O'Conner of the same city, all of them enthusiastic supporters of the Minnesota governor. Mayor Lawler, who acted as spokesman, said that all talk of Gov. Johnson taking second place on the ticket is utterly nonsense. "He will not take it," said Mayor Lawler. "It is out of the question to talk of such a thing. Even if the governor was himself disposed to accept the vice presidential nomination, and I assure you he is not, the people of Minnesota would not permit him to do so. The deamocrats of Minnesota and his real friends throughout the country, are not willing that Gov. Johnson shall be sidetracked into the vice presidency. He is too big a man for that place and he belongs in the presidential chair if he goes to Washington at all."

Mayor Lawler was not prepared to discuss the platform or the vice presidential situation. He was, however, emphatic in his statement that he expects Gov. Johnson to be nominated.

"I do not believe," he said, "that any nomination will be made on the first ballot. There are many uninstructed delegates, in fact more than one third of the convention is unpledged, and we do not believe that under such circumstances any nomination will be made immediately. We look for Gov. Johnson to make an excellent showing from the first ballot and to steadily gain strength from that time until he is nominated, and we do not expect that many ballots will be necessary."

The Johnson headquarters will be formally opened today.

Headquarters for Judge Gray were in full swing yesterday. No definite time has yet been set for the opening of headquarters for Bryan. There have been as yet few arrivals of men influential to the Bryan movement.

Discussion of the platform continues to be largely confined to the anti-injunction plank, and on this subject the latest information from Lincoln regarding Mr. Bryan's attitude toward that portion of the resolutions, was brought by Frank S. Monett, former attorney-general of Ohio, who arrived in Denver yesterday with the announcement that Mr. Bryan desired to address the resolutions committee on the legal phases of an anti-injunction plank. Mr. Monett personally is in favor of a strong utterance upon the subject. He conferred with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln Tuesday. Samuel Alschuler who is the probable member of the committee on resolutions from Illinois, declared yesterday that he did not believe that the anti-injunction plank to be adopted at the convention would be of such character that any controversy would be provoked by it.

"There has been talk of a 'radical plank' in the platform," said Mr. Alschuler, "and all sorts of meanings have been grouped upon that word. It all depends upon what is meant by the word 'radical.' I think it is entirely safe to say, although I am now giving my personal opinion only, that any assumption that the anti-injunction plank will be an attack upon the courts, is incorrect. It unquestionably will favor jury trials for contempt and due notice to all parties so concerned in injunction proceedings. It can safely be stated also that the plank will be a clean cut, definite statement and not a straddle such as the republican party has made. It is entirely within bounds to say that the injunction plank to be adopted by the democratic national convention will be no more advanced than the views which have from time to time been expressed by President Roosevelt. In fact, it is my opinion, that we will be more conservative than the president would have been if he could have written the plank in the republican platform."

When asked about the vice presidential situation, Mr. Alschuler declared that in his opinion, the great desirable attribute for any candidate was that he should be from Illinois. If, however, that state did not present any name to the convention, he was utterly at a loss to predict at this time who the Illinois delegation will favor. The state, he said, would stand for Bryan to the finish and there would be no break in its vote at any time.

Roger C. Sullivan, national committeeman from Illinois, last night announced that his state might have a candidate for the vice presidency in John Mitchell. Mr. Sullivan said that Mitchell would not be declared a candidate unless he was willing to make the race for the nomination. If he will be a candidate, he will have the solid backing of Illinois which will make a strong fight for him. The latter will be determined after Mitchell's arrival on Monday.

INJUNCTION PLANK

BRYAN HAS NOT CHANGED POSITION ON IT.

DENVER, Colo., July 2.—What is regarded as the very latest indication that Mr. Bryan does not contemplate changing his position on the injunction question to meet the ideas of the conservatives, was brought to town yesterday by Frank S. Monett, republican attorney general of Ohio, from 1896 to 1900. Mr. Monett was in conference with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln yesterday as the result of which he says he will have Mr. Bryan's indorsement in appearing before the resolutions committee of the convention to state the legal and political reasons why the injunction plank should pledge the democratic party to an amendment of the law in these three particulars:

First—To prevent the issuing of the writ in industrial disputes, except after notice to defendants and full hearings. Second—To permit trial before a judge other than the one who issued the writ, and third—To allow a jury to be summoned in all cases where the legal contempt is committed outside the province of the courts.

That Mr. Bryan heretofore has taken his stand on an injunction plank containing these elements, is the statement today of Mr. Monett; and the fact that Mr. Bryan requested Mr. Monett to urge their aceptance by the resolutions committe is taken up by the Ohioan to mean that Mr. Bryan will be satisfied with nothing less.

Having recently been the legislative attorney in Ohio for the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, Engineers and Firemen, as well as having close contact with labor views through his legal connection with the miners and bricklayers in the Hocking Valley strike of last February, Mr. Monett said yesterday that he informed Mr. Bryan that Roosevelt's 250,000 majority from the industrial centers in Ohio and 500,000 in Pennsylvania, was given because labor believed President Roosevelt was with them, particularly on the injunction demand.

"This independent vote," as Mr. Monett named it yesterday, would, he said, surely go to an independent candidate should one be put in the field, in the event the democratic party failed to pledge itself in positive language on this question. Mr. Monett, however, is of the opinion that while the labor element of the country is asking for notice, jury trial and hearing before another court, that the question of notice is the vital part of the issue and that assurance of this much of the demand by the democrats would be more nearly satisfactory to labor than is the declaration of the Chicago platform. The history of the injunction issue, Mr. Monett said, was that Mr. Bryan was most anxious it should be given the resolutions committee in detail. In complying with his request, Mr. Monett said yesterday, he contemplated going fully in the legal question, as well as political. He intends to emphasize that the vital essential of notice was eliminated from the law in 1874 without legislative authority at the hands of a codifying commission.

"In February last, Thomas Lewis, national organizer for the miners' organization, wrote Secretary Taft asking for his views on the three demands of labor on the injunction question notice, trial by jury and change of venue. Mr. Taft is on record in response to this letter, and this response was received with great enthusiasm by the miners of Ohio and Pennsylvania and accounts for the Taft delegates from this district. The response stated that the secretary was in favor of restoring the federal statute as it existed prior to 1874, that he recognized that as the law now stands an attorney for a coal mining company, a railroad company or other large corporation, having an industrial complaint, could make such a strong ex-parte affidavit, complying with all the necessary and legal requirements as to entitle him to an immediate injunction without notice; that there was nothing left for an honest court to do but comply with the statute and grant the temporary injunction. This the secretary further wrote, had caused great injustice in many instances to the employes who had no day in court prior to the issuing of the injunction and were wholly without knowledge that the injunction had been issued until they were hailed into court on contempt proceedings."

Mr. Monett appeared to be throughly impressed with the importance of the injunction issue and predicts that it has already become the vital question for the consideration of the democratic convention.

SKULL CRUSHED

Man May Be Victim of Foul Play

BOSTON, July 2—William Nalmi, the man who was found unconscious in bed in hotel Welcome, East Cambridge, several days ago, died yesterday at Cambridge relief hospital without having regained consciousness. It was evident that the man had either fallen or had been assaulted before reaching the boarding house, for his skull was found to be fractured and there was a discoloration over the eye.

The man was about 58 years old and was granite cutter by trade. Jeremiah Mahoney of 355 Windsor street, business agent for the granite cutters' union, has taken charge of the funeral.

CAPT. MURCHIE

Promoted to the Rank of Major

BOSTON, July 2.—Major Walter S. Hale of Brookline, has resigned his position as aide on the staff of Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., owing to the pressure of business engagements. The governor has promoted Captain Guy Murchie, now serving on detail from the First heavy artillery, to the rank of major and has appointed him to fill the vacancy.

BODY OF A MAN

Found in the Woods at Tiverton, R. I.

TIVERTON, R. I., July 2.—A boy wandering in the woods outside of the town late yesterday found the body of a well dressed man. Medical Examiner Stimson was notified and investigated. He found the man had been shot through the heart and a revolver, from which one shot had been fired, was found some distance away. The man's pockets were turned inside out and there was nothing on the body by which identification could be made.

The man was about 45 years old, five feet, 9 inches in height and weighed 175 pounds. He had black hair, a sandy moustache and a pug nose.

The medical examiner would not say whether he considered the case one of suicide or not and will continue his investigation.

WORLD'S RECORD

New One Made by Count Zeppelin

REMAINED IN AIR TWELVE HOURS

Traveled Great Part of Northern Switzerland

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, July 2.—Count Zeppelin yesterday out distanced all world's records for steerable balloons. He remained in the air for 12 hours, traversed the greater part of Northern Switzerland and visited Zurich, Winterthus and Lucerne, attaining an average speed throughout of 34 miles an hour. His airship displayed splendid qualities of dirigibility and answered the slightest move of her helm, while her stability was quite up to the greatest expectations.

In the most desirable weather conditions, almost a dead calm, the airship, manned by a crew of fourteen under the leadership of Count Zeppelin, left its floating home on Lake Constance at 8.30 o'clock in the morning. Less than five minutes later Count Zeppelin shouted "all clear" and the balloon rose abut 1000 feet in the air and turned her bow towards Constance. By nine o'clock it had disappeared on the western horizon.

Telephone messages from Frauenfeld, Winterthus and other towns soon reported the appearance of the airship and her passage over the Canton of Zurich. The giant craft remained ten minutes hovering over the town of Zurich and the lake, and then vanished from view at a rapid rate in the direction of Lucerne.

It was about one o'clock, when the airship came into view at Lucerene and the thousands of astonished tourists from all parts of the world, including hundreds of Americans, greeted her with loud cheers as she sailed quickly over the waters of the lake.

With the greatest precision Count Zeppelin guided his airship and proceeded to carry out a long series of evolutions, which included complicated figures, circles, the figure eight, sharp turns, descents and ascents. He then undertook a tour of the whole lake, visiting every bay and indentation along the shores. Finally he turned the nose of the ship homewards, crossing the Albis range of mountains in the high air and travelling at a good pace. hey soon reached Zurich again and then continued on his way to Winterthur and Frauenfeld.

By 6.30 o'clock, in the evening, the airship had again reached Lake Contance and turned eastward to Bregenz, a frontier town of Austra-Hungary. From that place, it travelled to Friedrichshafen, executing a most difficult series of maneuvers all the while until it was over the town. It descended to within one hundred feet of the roofs of the houses and was greeted with the firing of a salute from a battery of small mortars, cheers and shouts, to which the crew of the airship, led by the count, responded. A few minutes later, the balloon slipped easily into the shed from which it had been absent just 12 hours.

The greatest altitude reached in the long voyage was 2300 feet, and the distance covered was about 220 miles as the crow flies.

Passengers traveling on a train between Zurich and Constance, say that the balloon easily overhauled their train, which it left behind.

MEXICAN TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Word has been received at the Mexican embassy that Enrique Creel, the ambassador from Mexico to the United States, who is coming here for consultation with the state department in connectiond with the border situation, will arrive in Washington next week. The state department officials, however, express their belief that the acute phase of Mexico's internal troubles for the time being have passed into history. Mexico, the officials say, can have no complaint against the United States of inactivity in meeting the situation for the reports which have come from the officers charged with the enforcement of the neutrality law show they have acted with promptness and zeal.

HEAVILY ARMED

TROOPS READY TO MEET ATTACK ON TOWN.

EL PASO, Tex., July 2.—Mayor Mattus of Juarez, across the river from here, city officials and Commandant Ponce de Leon early today began gathering together at police headquarters, all heavily armed, and troops and police are held in readiness to respond to a call to repulse an attack on the town. Merchants have been notified that they must protect their own property in case of trouble.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

To Visit Boat Named After Him

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 2.—President Roosevelt will visit Commander Peary's Arctic exploring steamer Roosevelt, which was named after him on Monday afternoon if the plans of the Peary Arctic club are successful. It is the intention of the club to have the Roosevelt run into Oyster Bay on her way from New York to the north pole and salute the president and if the club can make the arrangement the president will go out and inspect the craft. In all probability Commander Peary will accompany the Roosevelt as far as Oyster Bay, leaving her here to continue on her way to Sydney, C. B., where he will join her.

The president always has been a warm admirer of the Arctic explorer and is interested in his attempt to plant the stars and stripes at the north pole.

BRYAN'S CALLERS

Encountered a Driving Storm at Lincoln

LINCOLN, Neb., July 2.—A driving rain pounding into W. J. Bryan's alfalfa field and turning to mud the road which leads from the street car line to the Fairview driveway, was a matter of regret to the democratic presidential candidate this morning.

One of Mr. Bryan's visitors was Congressman Sulzer of New York. Mr. Sulzer announced himself in thorough accord with the political views of Mr. Bryan and came to Fairview to talk platform and New York politics. He is particularly interested in having the platform declare for his scheme of building up American shipping by a tax which shall discriminate against foreign bottoms.

John W. Kern, whose name has been prominently mentioned for second place on the ticket, and Congressman Clayton of Alabama, who is said to be slated for permanent chairman of the convention, also called.

HARRY ORCHARD

Saved From Hanging by Pardon Board

BOISE, Ida., July 2.—The state board of pardons yesterday commuted the sentence of Harry Orchard, who was under sentence to be hanged Friday for the murder of ex-Gov. Frank Steunenberg, to imprisonment for life.

Orchard was arrested two days after the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg at Caldwell, Ida., Dec. 30, 1905, and confessed his guilt, asserting that he was employed to commit the crime by officers of the western federation of miners. As a result of his confession Charles H. Moyer, president; William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the western federation of miners, and Charles D. Pettibone were arrested and brought to Idaho to answer the charge of murder.

CHANGES CLERKS

Gilchrist is Made First Assistant

BOSTON, July 2.—William Gilchrist, seventh assistant clerk of the superior civil court for Suffolk county, was promoted to first assistant to succeed Edward A. Willard, who was reduced to seventh assistant by the justices of the superior court yesterday, at the instance of Francis A. Campbell, clerk of the court.

The action of the court caused a sensation at the court house. For more than 30 years Mr. Willard has been assistant clerk of the court. He is the son of the late Joseph A. Willard, for many years clerk of the court.

The position of first assistant carries with it a salary of $3000, that of seventh assistant $2500.

The court consulted Mr. Campbell as to his choice for first assistant and he suggested Mr. Gilchrist. Both clerks were greatly surprised to learn of the change.

TAUGHT TO STEAL

Girl Makes Charge Against Woman

NEW YORK, July 2.—"I wanted to be a good little girl, but she wouldn't let me; I didn't want to steal, but she said she would whip me if I didn't do as she told me to."

In a piping voice, Annie Wilson, Brooklyn's 9-year-old girl thief, who confessed to more than 40 robberies when arrested Tuesday night, thus accused Mrs. Julia Campbell of 340 Flushing avenue in the Lee avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday. Mrs. Campbell, who was locked up after little Annie had told her story to Police Capt. Cruise, was held without bail by Magistrate Higginbotham for trial on July 6.

"She lies. I never taught her to steal. I was a mother to her," was Mrs. Campbell's reply to the child's accusation, but when her home was searched the detectives found $100 worth of stolen clothing. Ten silk skirts, fur neck pieces, shirtwaists, expensive hats, handbags and dozens of other articles were among the lot.

Thin and emaciated, the child was a pitiful object when arraigned before the magistrate.

FORTY INJURED

NEW YORK, July 2.—Forty persons were injured when a southbound Third avenue car crashed into an eastbound First avenue car at 59th street and Third avenue in the height of the rush hour last night. Five were injured so severely as to necessitate their removal to a hospital. Both cars were crowded and many persons were standing. The Third avenue car struck the other in the middle, hurling it partly from the tracks and throwing the forward part against an L pillar. The car would have been overturned but for the pillar.

The air was filled with flying glass and splintered wood. The passengers shrieked and several women fainted. While waiting for the ambulances, policemen, assisted by many volunteers, carried the injured from the two cars to the sidewalk. On the curb many of the women recovered.

STARTLING PLOT

LISBON, July 2.—Dr. Jose Maria de Alpoim, chief of the Progressive Dissidents, smarting under the insinuations that he was implicated in the assassinations in Lisbon last February of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz, created a sensation in the house of lords today by revealing what he declared to be the true history of this regicide plot. He asserted that the assassinations had been decided upon at a meeting of the leaders of the Progressive and Regenerator party a few days before they were carried out. A number of republicans also were present at this meeting. Dr. Alpoim charged further that the republicans proposed to obliterate the entire royal family with the exception of Maria Pia, the mother of King Carlos, but that the monarchists insisted that such a general slaughter would be useless. Finally Manuel Silva Buissa and Alfred O. Costa were given $25,000 and $10,000 respectively to kill King Carlos and Premier France. Arrangements were made by other men to cover the flight of the assassins, but when Buissa and Costa fired, their friends lost their heads and opened fire also. These shots resulted in the death of Prince Luiz.

OFFICIALS HELD

Boston Men Charged With Conspiracy

BOSTON, July 2.—Three of the boiler and iron works officials recently arrested on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston through collusion in bidding for city contracts by means of what has been termed the "Boston agreement" were held for the grand jury by Judge Bolster in the municipal court today and a fourth was discharged from custody. The men who were held are John E. Lynch of the Hodge Boiler Works, Charles Kopman of the Cunningham Iron works and Duncan D. Russell of the James Russell Boiler Works.

Alfred E. Cox of the Atlantic Iron Works was discharged on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to hold him. The court fixed the bonds of each of the three men held at $1500, representing $500 on each of three charges.

Seven manufacturers were originally arrested on these charges. Three of them waived examination when brought into court last month and were held for the grand jury. The cases of the others were continued until today.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

In this day of improvements in all lines of business, the demand for novelties is nowhere greater than in the theatrical world. Play-goers demand something out of the ordinary to excite their interest, and with this demand in mind, the Adam Good company will offer at Lakeview theatre next week, in its production of "The Wayward Son," one of the most realistic and thrilling railroad scenes ever presented on the local stage. Although this may seem to be a broad statement, yet the Adam Good company feels safe in saying that everyone who attends it performance of "The Wayward Son" will come away puzzled as to how such a wonderful effect could have been worked on an ordinary stage. A locomotive is used in the third act of the play that is 32 foot in length, has practical revolving wheels, driving rods working steadily, stack belching forth smoke, steam escaping from the exhausts, a real fire box, a practical steam whistle and glaring headlight. This locomotive was built after a model of what is known as the Great Mogul, a type of engine used on most of the western railways. It weighs over 1000 pounds when taken apart it requires one big scene truck to transport it alone, and the stage at Lakeview had to be especially strengthened to permit of its use next week.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST YOUNG GIRLS

FROM INFORMATION RECEIVED AT THIS OFFICE WE ARE CONVINCED THAT THERE IS A STEADY CONSPIRACY CARRIED ON BY CERTAIN MEN FOR THE ENTRAPMENT OF INNOCENT YOUNG GIRLS BY LURING THEM INTO THE ROOMS OF SINGLE MEN ON ONE PRETEXT OR ANOTHER.

IT IS CARRIED ON IN THIS WAY: FIRST ONE BAD GIRL IS SECURED. SHE IS OFFERED MONEY FOR MAKING THE ACQUAINTANCE OF OTHER GIRLS AND FOR BRINGING THEM INTO THE APARTMENTS OF THE MEN. ONCE THESE GIRLS BECOME VICTIMS, THEY IN TURN LEAD OTHERS IN, BEING WELL PAID FOR SO DOING. THUS YOUNG GIRLS ARE VICTIMIZED BY SUPPOSED CHUMS, WHO ARE IN A CONSPIRACY WITH VILE MEN TO ACCOMPLISH THEIR RUIN.

THE UNSUSPECTING GIRL CAN SEE NO HARM IN SPEAKING TO A GIRL OF HER OWN AGE WHO ACCOSTS HER ON THE STREET; BUT IF SHE KNEW THAT THE GIRL WHO THUS TRIES TO MAKE HER ACQUAINTANCE IS THE AGENT OF SOME NUMBER OF BAD MEN WHO HAVE EVIL DESIGNS UPON HER, SHE WOULD PERCEIVE THE WISDOM OF AVOIDING BAD COMPANY, AND ESPECIALLY THE COMPANY OF MEN OR WOMEN WHO TRY TO MAKE HER ACQUAINTANCE ON THE STREETS OR ON THE COMMONS.

IN POLICE COURT QUITE RECENTLY YOUNG GIRLS HAVE BEEN IN ON CHARGES OF STUBBORNNESS WHO WERE PLAINLY THE VICTIMS OF SUCH CONSPIRACIES AGAINST GIRLSH INNOCENCE.

THIS SHOULD BE A LESSON TO YOUNG GIRLS AND TO THEIR PARENTS. IT WILL NOT BE SAFE FOR ANY YOUNG GIRL TO STRIKE UP A CASUAL ACQUAINTANCE WITH ANY WOMAN OR GIRL ON THE STREET UNTIL THE VILE RUFFIANS WHO CARRY ON THIS PRACTICE SHALL BE CAUGHT AND PUNISHED AS BEFITS THE HEINOUSNESS OF THEIR CRIME.

MOST MOTHERS WOULD RATHER A THOUSAND TIMES SEE THEIR GIRLS CONSIGNED TO AN EARLY GRAVE THAN TO BECOME THE VICTIMS OF SUCH CONSPIRATORS AND THE DUPES OF GIRLS THEIR OWN AGE WHO HAVE PASSED THROUGH ALL THE DIFFERENT STAGES OF DEGRADATION AND NOW WANT TO BRING OTHERS DOWN TO THEIR OWN LEVEL.

WE DO NOT THINK IT SHOULD BE NECESSARY TO DO MORE THAN MENTION THIS SUBJECT TO HAVE ACTIVE STEPS TAKEN, NOT ONLY BY THE POLICE, BUT BY PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF YOUNG GIRLS TO INDUCE THE LATTER TO AVOID BAD COMPANY, TO BEWARE OF CHANCE ACQUAINTANCES ON THE STREET, WHO, BY BLANDISHMENTS OF ONE KIND OR ANOTHER, MAY TURN THEM AGAINST PARENTAL AUTHORITY AND THUS START THEM ON THE DOWNWARD PATH TO DEGRADATION AND SHAME.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

THE SCHOOL BOARD DID NOT ADOPT ANY NEW MUSICAL SYSTEM AT ITS MEETING TUESDAY EVENING. THE COMMITTEE ON TEXT BOOKS WANTED ONE VOTE TO HAVE ITS FAVORITE SYSTEM ADOPTED. THAT COMMITTEE RESORTED TO A SKILFUL METHOD OF THROWING DUST IN THE EYES OF THE PUBLIC. IT IS TO INVITE A HARVARD EXPERT TO DILATE UPON THE HARMONIC SYSTEM. WE VENTURE TO SAY THAT THIS EXPERT, WHOEVER HE MAY BE, IS KNOWN TO BE AN ADVOCATE OF THE HARMONIC SYSTEM, OR HE WOULD NOT BE INVITED. HE MAY BE AN AGENT FOR THE AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY THAT PUBLISHES THE SYSTEM.

THE COMMITTEE CHARGES THAT THE PRESENT SYSTEM IS UNSUITABLE FOR COLLEGE PURPOSES. THAT IS NO PROOF THAT IT IS UNSUITABLE FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS, FROM WHICH NOT ONE-TENTH WILL ENTER COLLEGE. THE NEEDS OF THE MAJORITY SHOULD RULE. THE PRESENT SYSTEM IS GOOD ENOUGH, AND EVEN IF IT WERE NOT, THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO CHANGE IT. WHAT IS NEEDED IS A CHANGE IN THE CITY CHARTER THAT WILL COMPEL THE SCHOOL BOARD TO ENTRUST EDUCATIONAL MATTERS TO THE SUPERINTENDENT. THERE HAS BEEN TOO MUCH DOMINATION BY COMMITTEES WITH THE RESULT THAT THE SUPERINTENDENT HAS NO POWER TO INSIST ON EDUCATIONAL RESULTS. THERE IS NO BRANCH OF THE CITY GOVERNMENT IN WHICH POLITICS RULES MORE SUPREMELY THAN IN THE SCHOOL BOARD IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT THE MEMBERS AND CERTAIN OF THEIR FRIENDS CLAIM THE CONTRARY.

EIGHT HOUR LAW

The Hearing on Its Alleged Violation

Chairman Sproule Talks All Around the Subject — Dennis Healey to the Point — Mayor Farnham Says He is Guided by the City Solicitor's Opinion

A public hearing on petition of the Trades and Labor council was held in the mayor's reception room at city hall last night. The hearing was on an alleged violation of the eight hour law in the street, sewer and police departments and though the hearing had been duly advertised and parties interested notified by the city messenger, yet when the time set for the hearing had arrived there wasn't a representative laboring man in sight. Mayor Farnham, Councilman Fielding, Superintendent of Cemeteries Mayberry and two reporters were the only ones in sight.

Mayor Farnham wondered at the vacant stare of the councilmanic chamber. The mayor had anticipated a crowded forum. He waited fifteen minutes and at 7.45, representatives of the Trades & Labor council having failed to put in an appearance, the mayor said: "Curfew shall not ring tonight," no, beg pardon, this is what he said: "There will be no public hearing tonight," but there was, just the same.

The mayor on his way to the street was met by a bunch of labor leaders including the orator in chief, Mr. Sproule, Mr. Convrey, Mr. Healey and others. The mayor had determined not to give a hearing and explained to them that he had waited fifteen minutes. They said, "What if you did wait fifteen minutes, we've had to wait hours in this hall before we could get a chance to speak our little piece." They succeeded in convincing rederick, the honorable one, that he had acted hastily in the mateer, that they represented the brain as well as the brawn and muscle of the city, and when four or five husky fellows put that kind of stuff up to a lone man on a marble stairs the lone one is liable to take a few hitches in his close lines and back up.

The mayor argued for a little while but finally agreed to open the hearing in his reception room. Aldermen and councilmen were present then and the Trades and Labor council was well represented.

City Messenger Pattee raised the windows in the reception room in order to admit the fresh air and the brown-tail moths. It was about 8.15 when His Honor called to order and a man with half an eye could see that he was not thoroughly pleased with the turn that things had taken. The hearing, however, did not last very long. Joseph Convrey was obliged to leave before the thing had properly started. The fire alarm sounded and Joseph is a call fireman.

The meeting opened by the mayor reading the letter from the Trades and Labor council and signed by A. W. Hersome, secretary pro tem.

Mr. William E. Sproule, president of the Trades and Labor council was the first speaker. Mr. Sproule is a good talker, but there are a great many things that he doesn't know anything about, because he's human, and liable to misstatement. And, again, he says some things under the strain of great excitement. But one thing can be said about him, that seems contradictory to some of his statements, he has an honest appearance and impresses one as being an honest man.

When Mr. Sproule said that the press of Lowell had done all it could to discredit the labor leaders and the cause of labor in this city he went beyond the border line of fact, and that is too liable to happen when a man is abnormally enthusiastic and earnestly engrossed in his subject.

MR. SPROULE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Sproule said in part:

"In asking for this hearing it wasn't the mayor so much; I wanted to see the people. I understand that the people voted four to one for an eight-hour law."

The city solicitor has found that the individual can work more than eight hours a day if he so desired.

"I do not know that the city solicitor is right. The individual has no rights as against the majority and it is well for society that it is so.

"We know that our public servants have two task masters and they know what side their bread is buttered on. When it comes to interpreting law it is generally interpreted in favor of capital as against labor.

"I come here tonight in the interest of the teamsters. I don't see any of them here and I hope the reporters will make note of what I say. It may be that they are afraid of losing their jobs. I have been in that position myself. The fact remains, however, that the people voted them an eight-hour day and I do not want to see them throw away or sacrifice their rights. I am the best friend they have in Lowell.

"Some have asked me why we didn't get a lawyer. I don't think we have any use for a lawyer, except to protect us from other lawyers. That is the only excuse they have for living, so far as I can see.

"City officials should see to it that the laborer's rights are protected and the laws lived up to.

"Our mission here is to help the laboring man, and organized labor is the only friend the laboring man has.

"I do not know that the men who signed away their rights did so with criminal intent. The idea of those who voted for a shorter day was that the laborer should receive the same compensation as when he worked a longer day."

Speaking of wages, Mr. Sproule said that it was ridiculous to offer a man $1.60 a day. "I would not insult a boy by offering him $1.60 a day; no laboring man should work for less than $2.50 a day," he said.

"If the laws are for and by the people," he said, "why not stand for them. I often wonder why lawyers will insist on always interpreting the law against the laborer."

"Standing here for law and order I say what we need is education, to stand up for our rights. My position is just as easily jeopardized as is the position of the other men, but I have the courage of my conviction and I am here to voice them.

"It is not because of the shortening of the hours of the laboring man, or extravagant wages that have brought the city, as they tell us, to the verge of bankruptcy."

MR. DENNIS HEALEY.

Dennis Healey, of the Leather Workers, was the next speaker. He said that the eight-hour day was a sacred thing to the laboring man, and went into a detailed explanation of how the eight-hour day was brought about.

"There is no question as to this being a law and constitutionally adopted. The power of the legislature extended to the citizens made the eight-hour law.

"The complaint has come to the Trades and Labor council that the eight-hour law is being violated in the street department and the police department."

Mayor Farnham said: "Referring to your communication I have called the attention of heads of departments to the subject matter in question. Of course we must take our law from the city solicitor.

"He tells us that he does not find that the police come under the eight-hour law and that the men, contained about in the street or sewer department, have a right to work more than eight hours if they so desire."

"Is it consistent," said Mr. Healey, "that the head of a department should allow a man to work more hours than is specified by the legislature as a work day? And if the man asks to work more than eight hours and the head of the department or superintendent allows him so to do, wouldn't it appeal to you as a conspiracy, or collusion, to defeat the law?"

"I have taken the opinion of the city solicitor," said Mayor Farnham, "and I don't see that I can go any further."

"We have taken the matter to this point," said Mr. Healey, "hoping that you would move a step farther."

FRANK M. BILL.

Frank M. Bill was the last speaker and he expressed the opinion that the mayor should not be guided by the opinion of the city solicitor in the absence of authority from the courts.

The hearing closed when Mr. Bill had finished.

READ THIS

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Clearola ½ oz. Ether 1 oz. Alcohol 7 ozs. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and Brilliant Complexion."

Our Saturday Crowds Have Been Immense

By the Saturday business one does, one can tell whether a sale is a success or not. Our store was crowded to the doors last Saturday. THE ROOSEVELT

Starts for North Pole Next Monday

NEW YORK, July 2.—Commander Robert E. Peary is to make another attempt to locate the North pole. The steamer Roosevelt, built for him by the Peary Arctic Club and which carried his party and him to the far north on the last expedition, next Monday will begin her northward voyage.

Peary will join his party at Sydney, C. B., where the Roosevelt will stop to take on coal. He had planned to have his ship leave New York yesterday, but he, uncertainty of raising the $20,000 necessary to finance the expedition caused the delay.

"If everything is now arranged for the trip," said Commander Peary yesterday, on his return from his trip to Maine, "excepting that something over $5000 is needed to complete the fund necessary to provide the essential equipment.

"If I do not obtain that I shall have to curb the equipment to that extent. However, I am hopeful that the entire amount will be raised before I leave. I have anticipations that every material object I consider necessary to permit us to get farthest north will be provided before the Roosevelt steams out of port."

During the day supplies were taken aboard and stowed away in the steamer's hold. The Roosevelt has been thoroughly overhauled and a picked crew of hardy Newfoundlanders, with Captain Robert A. Bartlett of Brigus, as sailing master, is awaiting the signal to start. A collier will accompany the Roosevelt as far north as Etah.

Peary's plans for his coming expedition, aside from placing the stars and stripes at the North pole, include researches into the north coasts of Grant Land and Greenland. He will follow practically the same route as he did on his first trip, but his tactics will be difficult and he will utilize the "drift method" so that the moving ice will not carry him beyond the line of his goal. He has planned carefully to overcome many of the obstacles which were encountered in former expeditions, especially the "big lead" for open water, which nearly caused the death of himself and his little band on their return from "the farthest north."

Eskimos and dogs will be taken aboard in the Whale Sound region as before, and Peary will endeavor to force the Roosevelt to the same or similar winter quarters on the north side of Grant Land as in the winter of 1905-1906.

INDIANA PARTY

Called on Bryan at Lincoln, Today

LINCOLN, Neb., July 2.—John Kern of Indiana, heading a party composed of Messrs. Lamb, Jackson, Padgett and Riley, arrived here early today on the Rock Island Limited. The Indiana party will leave for Denver this afternoon after a call on Mr. Bryan at Fairview. Mr. Kern declared emphatically that he is not a candidate for vice-president but refused to say what he would do were the convention to nominate him without his seeking the place.

Mr. Kern was asked what the platform will contain. He answered:

"I have no statement to make now concerning this matter, further than to say that both convention and platform will be all Bryan."

Mr. Kern thought he might have something to say concerning this matter after calling on Mr. Bryan later in the day. While it was Mr. Kern's intention on going to the hotel to leave this afternoon for Denver an effort will be made to have him remain over for the banquet to be given Friday night by the Bryan Traveling Men's club.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Fire in a Merrimack St. Building

IT STARTED IN A CLOSET

Cause of the Fire Not Known

An alarm from box 52 about eight o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the Drake block, 75a Merrimack street. The cause of the fire is unknown and but for the prompt response and work of the firemen, the building might have been gutted.

The tenement where the fire broke out is occupied by Mathias Peloquin and Joseph Arbour and their families on the second floor. The members of both families were out at the time. The fire started in a closet back of the kitchen stove. There was no fire in the stove during the evening.

When the department arrived there was a lively blaze in the interior of the house. The woodwork and walls were damaged and the closet was destroyed. Other rooms in the tenement were damaged by smoke and water.

The agency of Frank M. Bragan held the insurance on the building and furniture of Cornelius O'Neil.

Open Friday night. Roy & O'Heir.

AT THE CREASE.

The North Billerica cricket team will journey to Maynard next Saturday, July 4, when it will play the Maynard boys in a friendly game. The following are scheduled to play the North Billerica: A. Marsden, captain; H. B. Ellis, vice captain; C. H. Bailey, B. Southam, A. Simpson, W. Haslam, W. Bollington, J. T. Whitehead, J. T. Holmes, Cunliffe, Fairbrother; reserves, G. Pickup and Frank Townson. Umpire, William Buckley; scorer, Francis Collinge. Players are requested to connect with the car leaving Merrimack square at 10:15, when the Billerica delegation will join at the post office at Billerica.

Owing to Saturday being a holiday, there will be no regular game at Meehair park, but the members will celebrate in the afternoon with a basket picnic at the grounds with their friends and families. A committee is making arrangements for entertainment and those wishing supper at the club house can make the necessary arrangements to have same. Messrs. Rhodes and Priestley will attend the state league game at Providence which promises to be keenly contested.

FIRES WERE SET

Two Buildings in Newfield Destroyed

NEWFIELD, Me., July 2.—The burning of two sets of buildings in as many days and suspicious circumstances attending the second fire have stirred up the residents of this town and caused the town officials to begin a thorough investigation.

Early yesterday morning the town farm buildings situated between Newfield and West Newfield were burned to the ground and there was no apparent cause for the fire other than it was of incendiary origin. The loss was $2[illegible] with a small insurance.

This morning at about the same time, five o'clock, the general store of J. M. [illegible] & Son was burned together with its $5000 stock. An hour before the discovered his building was ablaze Harry Moulton heard a carriage stop near the store but he thought nothing of the incident until afterwards. When he discovered the fire it was beyond control and nothing was saved. The loss on the building was $2000.

Open Friday night. Roy & O'Heir.

PAINFUL INJURY

Window Fell on Man's Head

Austibes Karckais, residing at 465 Market street, and employed in a laundry in Fletcher street, met with a painful accident yesterday. He was leaning out of a window when the upper sash slipped from its catches and fell on him, inflicting a bad gash on the forehead. He was taken to Chalmerson's drug store, where his head was bandaged and the ambulance summoned. Upon the arrival of the ambulance he was taken to the Lowell hospital, where it was found necessary to take four stitches in the wound.

GREAT WINNINGS

Ballot Has Passed the $100,000 Mark

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 2.—Ballot by winning the Suburban handicap passed the $100,000 winning mark and made the fifth horse within four years to enter this charmed circle in the colors of James R. Keene. This is the third season that Ballot has been on the turf, he having as a rival in his two and three year old form the successful racer Salvidere, which probably accounts for the son of Voter not becoming a $100,000 winner as a three-year-old last season. As a two-year-old in 1906 Salvidere earned $52,780 to Ballot's $31,935, but as a three-year-old in 1907 Salvidere won only $40,618, while Ballot took $63,318. The winnings of Ballot during the last two weeks also place his sire, Voter, within the list of greatest money winning sires in 1908, which is composed of stallions whose get have won more than $15,000.

During the season of 1908 twelve two-year-olds have won more than $5000 on the turf. Four of these youngsters belong to John E. Madden and were bred at his Hamburg Place stud near this city; two are the property of James R. Keene. The largest money winning two-year-old of the season is Madden's Sir Martin; J. R. Keene's Trance is second and Madden's Fayette is third. The following is a list of two-year-olds winning more than $5000: Sir Martin, $23,075; Trance, $13,767; Fayette, $12,500; Lee Rose, $7015; Melissa, $6765; Rose Queen, $6720; Lawton Wiggins, $5630; Marse Abe, $5655; Fitz Herbert, $5575; Joe Madden, $5455; Personal, $5480, and Melisande, $5350.

W. J. Roe of Oshkosh, Wis., has sent to M. S. Cohen, Kentucky's leading handler and exhibitor of saddle and harness horses, his champion five-year-old saddle stallion Bourbon Prince to be prepared and exhibited at all the principal horse shows this season. Bourbon Prince's show career has been quite noted, winding up at New York last year, where at the Madison Square Garden show he was crowned champion for the best five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding of any age.

WILDER SECOND

In Golf Play at Country Club

BOSTON, July 2.—Leading a field of 28 in the first half of the state open championship meeting at the Country club yesterday, Alex Ross got a good grip on the title that he already has held for two years. Tied with J. G. Anderson at 74 for third place at the end of the morning round, he led by the narrow margin of one stroke at the end of 36 holes, with a total of 146.

In the second place is David Brown, the veteran gold professional and carpenter, who has 147, and next to him comes H. H. Wilder of Harvard and Vesper, who has tied with the Lawrence player. Then come the two Campbells, Andrew and Alex, with 149 and 150, respectively.

ADVANCE STAKES

Won by Ballot Who Broke Record

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, N. Y., July 2.—James R. Keene's Ballot, a son of Voter, yesterday added another stake to his already long list when he easily won the Advance stakes, worth $11,750 to the winner, here yesterday. He also made a new world's record for the distance, one mile and five-sixteenths, in 2:09 3-5, which is one second faster than the record held jointly by Hedouin and Ironsides.

DIAMOND NOTES

Frank Shannon would make a good man for Fall River.

The all-conquering Lawrence bunch will play tomorrow. Lowell will play at Lawrence Saturday morning and Lawrence will come here in the afternoon.

Mike O'Brien, Lowell's left fielder who is reporting here every day under advice of Pres. Murnane, has applied to the National board for his release on the ground that Winn after reserving him offered him a contract with a cut of $100 per month in salary. Winn has declined to release O'Brien which prevents him playing in the organized baseball world.

Lowell will play Lawrence here on Friday.

A big delegation of Lowell fans went down to Glen Forest yesterday afternoon to witness the double header between Lynn and Lawrence.

Tommy Devine, the clever Lawrence player, has received a tempting offer to manage the Fitchburg Independent team.

Billy Connors is making a hit along the circuit as a good umpire.

An excited fan came to the writer after the game Tuesday and said: "Say, you aught to give Winn a knock in the paper. When Greenwell hit a player in the back. Winn cried out: "Hit them in the head, if you're going to hit 'em." All we can say is, Naughty Winn! Ain't it awful Maudie?

Uniac has a very graceful way of getting after a ground ball. And he has also a very graceful way of missing some of them. Not many though, not enough to kick about.

Zinssar is getting to be a regular Arlie Latham on the coach line.

The suspension of Umpire Joe O'Brien comes rather as a surprise since he has been uniformly good all over the circuit. Unless there is something radically wrong he will be reinstated. Lawrence American.

Saturday morning's game at Worcester with Haverhill will start at 11 o'clock, the late start being made so that persons wishing to see the parade of the temperance societies may see the entire game. The afternoon game will probably not be started till four o'clock.

Mike Fisher of San Francisco is to take a team of American ball players to Japan in November. They will also go to Hongkong, Shanghai, on to Manila, then back to Honolulu. Mike says he has numbers of applicants for the trip.

Tommy Devine is negotiating with the owners of the Fitchburg club for the management of the same. He expects to take hold of the team today or tomorrow. The only thing to be settled is that of salary and this is said to be satisfactory to Tommy.

Speaking of home runs. They have about $100 offered to the Brockton players for home runs made in Brockton. The first fellow that scores one on the Brockton grounds will receive that amount in money and clothing. That's certainly showing baseball enthusiasm.

Mickey Flynn is leading the league at stealing bases. He is just two ahead of Kid Hickman. Flynn is certainly proving to be a fast man on his feet.

his feet. Hickman has one record safely at his disposal, however, and that is for fielding. He leads the league at second base with an average of .935 and is welting the ball with the best of them. Lawrence American.

The Haverhill games for Friday afternoon and Saturday morning were transferred here on account of the team being unable to make good train connections for the games as originally scheduled with Friday afternoon's and Saturday morning's games in Haverhill and the afternoon game here. Manager Steve Flanagan of the Brockton team is quoted as objecting to the transfer of the games to Worcester as he thinks that it will give the Worcester team an advantage in the pennant race. Flanagan seriously believes that his Brockton team has a chance to win the pennant this year. Worcester Post.

CONNOR RELEASED

FALL RIVER CAPTAIN RELEASED BY DIRECTORS.

FALL RIVER, July 2.—Capt. Jim Connor of this city, formerly of the Grays, retired from the Fall River team after the game with Worcester in Fall River Monday afternoon. Action requiring his release was taken by the board of directors at a meeting held Monday night, and Manager O'Brien was instructed to carry out the wishes of the directorate. The board was unanimous in its decision, it is stated.

In reaching this decision the board accepted the opinions of many stockholders. While the poor showing of the team was not attributed to Connor alone, it was the feeling in the corporation that he should be retired because so many had expressed the conviction that this was necessary to bolster up waning interest in the club. Also, some stockholders felt that a younger man would get better results at second base. In justice to Connor, it should be said that he has played good ball since he joined the team. Connor could not step around as lively as many others, but what he lacked in that respect he made up otherwise. That his generalship has saved many games cannot be denied.

Confidence in the team may be restored with this and other changes which are contemplated. Nevertheless there is one condition noted by close observers of the team's work, and that is that generally when dumb or loose playing has cost games, not Connor, but other members of the team who are much more popular were at fault. These players have often been advised, but they seemed to have quickly forgotten the instructions which were given them.

Manager O'Brien went to New Bedford yesterday to try to effect a trade with Haverhill. He would like to get Frankie Shannon, the former Lowell shortstop, or Jimmy Barton, and he might take both if he could get them. There is likely to be a little more shifting about before the week is out, also.

A special meeting of stockholders has been called for next Tuesday night, at the request of a number of the shareholders, to discuss affairs generally.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

"Good Roads and Uniform Legislation" is the slogan with which Buffalo will resound on July 7 and 8 during the convention to be held there. The words quoted will be seen in red and white lettering on thousands of blue pennants made for the occasion. Additional delegates appointed from Western states are: By Gov. John C. Cutler of Utah—The Hon. D. R. Roberts. By Gov. Henry A. Buchtel of Colorado—Dr. F. L. Bartlett, E. A. Colburn, G. H. Fernald, George E. Hannan, J. Hervey Nichols, Jr., A. T. Wilson, W. S. Hunnewell, E. L. Mathewson and D. M. Howell.

In addition to the club delegates from sixteen other states the following have been appointed: Automobile club of Pittsburg, Pittsburg, Pa.—Edward J. Kent, M. F. Leslie and S. A. Stewart. Automobile club of Hartford, Conn.—Walter S. Schutz.

The automobile clubs at Springfield and Pittsfield, in Massachusetts, have been working hard to secure the improvement of the Jacob's Ladder road in the Berkshires and immediate betterment is promised. The big rocks that make the road so dangerous for automobiles are to be removed by digging or dynamite and the surface of the road is to be covered with gravel. Ditches are to be dug along the sides of the road so that the rains will not wash the road away after it has been fixed up.

Consul Maxwell Blake Dunfermline reports as follows concerning the new problems which confront municipalities and county councils throughout Great Britain, where the expenditure for road construction and maintenance is increasing at an alarming rate.

Traction engines, but more especially the various types of motor cars, are held to be largely responsible for the increased cost of road maintenance, against which the taxpayers are loudly protesting. Various ways of relieving the situation are suggested. The Motor Car union requests the government to set aside in a general fund all money collected from the taxation of motor cars out of which grants can be made to local authorities toward meeting the increased cost of construction and maintenance wherever the evidence justifies the conclusions that the drainage complained of was the result of motor car traffic. Others suggest that a graduated toll, according to distance travelled, be collected from motor cars, and still others advocate direct grants by the government.

The very satisfactory means of obviating the dust nuisance on motor roads used for the past year was a surface spray of tar, but as this costs about $150 to $250 per mile of road sprayed, and at best is but temporary palliative treatment rather than a permanent or preserving one, it is being given up and an effort is being made to substitute tar macadam instead.

Tar macadam, it is claimed by some, is destined to solve the entire problem of road construction, and its practical results to date go a long way toward justifying this prophecy. For the best results of this method a coarse or hard porous stone must be used, well baked to extract all moisture before mixing with the tar preparation. When mixed it is laid about five inches thick upon a well prepared foundation, and when sufficiently rolled it gives a smooth surface, a compact body resisting dampness, frost and hard wear, and as it does not require so much camber to shed water it is consequently a better road to travel on.

The cost of tar macadam, applied to a mile of road 20 feet wide, laid upon a rock bottom works out at about $7,350. Such a piece of roadway should last, I am told, for at least twenty years, at an average cost of $35 per mile per annum for maintenance. As a comparison with the cost of ordinary macadam it is unfortunately high, but it is said that in spite of this great difference in cost the use of the tar macadam works out the more economically of the two. The tar macadam costs about 55 cents per square yard.

Miss Mamie Thibodeau of Hood farm and Miss Annie Barr will sail from Boston, Sunday, July 5th, for an extended vacation in Nova Scotia. They will be the guests of their parents in Weymouth and will return the last of September.

PLATFORM FIGHT

Will Be Big Feature of the Democratic Convention

Judge Gray Can Have Vice-Presidential Nomination If He Wants It—If He Declines, the Nomination Will Go to a New York Man

2 COL HD—PLATFORM FIGHT

DENVER, Colo., July 2—For the first time in the history of national conventions, an attempt will be made in connection with the democratic convention to be held here next week to moderate the temperature of the hall by the use of snow. Preparations are already under way for that experiment.

Although the date for the opening of the convention is almost a week removed, Denver considers herself in readiness for the event and while no one can estimate the number of strangers who may be attracted to the city, there is not a resident but that will assure you that all will be well cared for. Some concede that the hotel accomodations may fall short of the requirements, but if such should prove to be the case, the private citizens generally stand ready to throw open their houses for the accomodation of the visitors. Without regard to political affiliations, the people manifest the utmost appreciation of the compliment paid them in locating the convention in Denver, and they unanimously declare their intention to so conduct themselves that Denver will become a convention city and be recognized as such from the beginning.

HOTELS REMODELLED.

In anticipation of the coming of thousands from the east, there has been a general house cleaning. Many of the hotels have been remodelled, the streets have been repaired and private residences have been burnished up. The railroads have increased their passenger facilities and the telegraph companies are doing their best to justify the claim that Denver is a telegraph centre which was made when the invitation for the convention was decided. There is no doubt that the housing and feeding capacity of the city will be well tested for the reports from the railroad companies indicate the probability that the attendance will be large. As a rule the convention delegates and public men will be taken care of in the hotels but many other visitors will probably find it necessary to find accomodation in boarding houses and private residences. They will, however, be looked after by the local committees which guarantee that visitors will be properly treated in all respects.

Probably the most marked evidence of preparation which is to be found, is in the new convention hall, a magnificent structure, which has been erected in the heart of the city at a cost of $400,000. It is a permanent building, but it will be christened by the convention and it is even now in readiness for the reception of delegates. So nicely was the work of the hall calculated that the building has just been completed. If necessary the big meeting could be begin tomorrow.

The chairs in the main auditorium and the far reaching galleries are all in and decorations already render the interior picturesque and attractive.

PICTURE OF CLEVELAND.

A picture of Grover Cleveland which will adorn one end of the building will be one of four only that will be given space in the enclosure. The policy is to place in the hall only the likenesses of departed democrats but an exception is made in the case of George Washington if he can be called an exception. Washington's portrait finds a place immediately over the seat of the chairman and is flanked on the right by the picture of Jackson and on the left by that of Jefferson. Cleveland's portrait will face all of the others from the far end of the hall. The proverbial democratic rooster will give place to the eagle and there will be many specimens of that bird. They are already in place and all cluster about the platform of the presiding officer. They are in both flying and sitting attitudes and would really look very lifelike but for the decorations in the way of national colors and other devices which have been liberally bestowed on them.

All told the hall is one of the most complete for its size in the country.

Denver has been drier in the point of weather this summer than usual and also warmer, and a device has been hit upon which it is believed will both moisten and cool the atmosphere. This result is to be accomplished by introducing snow from the mountains in liberal quantities, which will be distributed through the hall in barrels. The confident expectation is that it will vastly improve the atmosphere and at least prove a novelty to the visitors from the states in which snow in the summer is unknown. The hall will seat 12,000 persons.

Every succeeding day emphasizes the fact that in many respects the approaching convention will be a duplicate of the recent republican convention at Chicago and two of the most pronounced features of similarity will be the contests over the vice presidency and the injunction plank in the platform.

As was the case with Senator Dolliver, Judge Gray is the leading candidate if he can be called such in the face of his assertion to the contrary and as in the former case he has the support of the leading candidate for first place. A sentiment has so far crystalized among the democrats of prominence now in the city that the Delaware jurist is a decided favorite and all agree that if he will accept the nomination he can have it without serious opposition. Mr. Bryan is unequivocally for him and delegates from all sections express satisfaction at the mention of his name. If Judge Gray should decline, the consensus of opinion is favorable to throwing the office to New York. As was the case at Chicago the ultimatum has already gone forth that if New York wants the compliment she must show her good faith by getting together and agreeing upon a candidate as the republicans did upon Mr. Sherman. Again there is division and in addition to the names of Stanchfield and Harrison the name of Charles A. Towne is not infrequently mentioned and his friends are making strenuous claims in his behalf.

Unless there is a decidedly greater tendency toward compromise than is now manifested the real fight will be over the injunction plank, but the leaders declare that before the committee on platform is appointed a substantial agreement will have been reached. In Chicago the fight was against the insertion of any injunction plank at all; here all admit the necessity of some declaration but many oppose the pronouncement for previous notice in injunction proceedings. There has been much communion with Mr. Bryan on this point but apparently his attitude is not clearly understood and probably it will not be until his draft of the platform, which he is understood to be preparing, is received.

It is known, however, that he would use stronger language than is employed in the republican platform. That he is willing to go as far as the federation of labor demands none is willing to say but his closest friends say that he does not consider it necessary to make such a sweeping declaration.

Miss Botts, a young woman, was arrested in Boston yesterday. She is accused of theft, in having received a check for $85 from a customer of her employer April 6. SPEAKER CANNON

To Call on Secretary Taft Today

WASHINGTON, July 2.—This was a day of physical effort and serious mental strain of conferences for Judge William H. Taft. He is making all arrangements to leave Washington for Hot Springs, Va., tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. Meantime he desires to dispose of a great accumulation of correspondence.

Speaker Cannon who arrived in Washington last night said today that he came to attend to some legislation business but expected to call on Judge Taft during the day. A harmonious working agreement between the two eminent republican leaders is assured.

It is expected that Judge Taft and Frank Hitchcock may have a conference during the day; but thus far no engagement for it has been made and it may go over until tomorrow.

Judge Taft has retained a desk and some chairs in the library of his dismantled K street residence and there he will work until his departure from Washington.

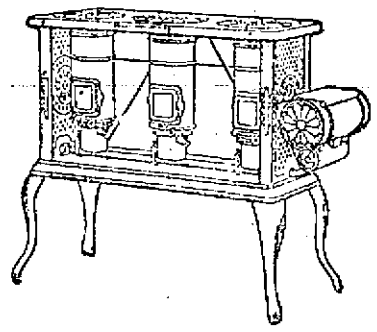
SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of Court City of Lowell, F. of A., was held last night in Foresters hall, Middle street. Deputy Grand Chief Ranger George B. Shields, assisted by J. F. Roane, herald, installed the following officers:

The court has joined the grand court funeral fund. It also took action on Brother Meagher's death. Great interest was displayed in the announcement of Foresters' day at Mountain Rock, Aug. 15, and tickets for the same were generously distributed among the members.

Gen. N. P. Banks Circle, No. 25, Ladies of the G. A. R., held its regular session in Memorial hall, G. A. R., last night. Mrs. Elvira E. Galdwin, president, presiding. Routine business was transacted. A memorial service was given by the members as a tribute to the unknown dead of the Civil war. The circle voted to hold a picnic outing at Willow Dale in July.

Put This Stove in Your Kitchen



It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The

NEW PERFECTION

is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Sort of Humor That Follows the Fourth

A POOR GUESS.

Jones: "Hello, Brown. Is that a package of fireworks for the children?"
Brown: "Fireworks! I should say not. It's full of salve and liniments."

TOOK IT HARD.

Gunner—I hear that Carter created a great uproar when he lost $200 at poker.

Guyer—Yes; he created as much uproar as if he had lost his collar button.

TIME WASTED.

Miss Passay—He was so impatient. He wanted to marry me right away. But I said there was no hurry.

Miss Pert—The idea! And you getting older every minute!

ANOTHER LATE EXPLOSION.

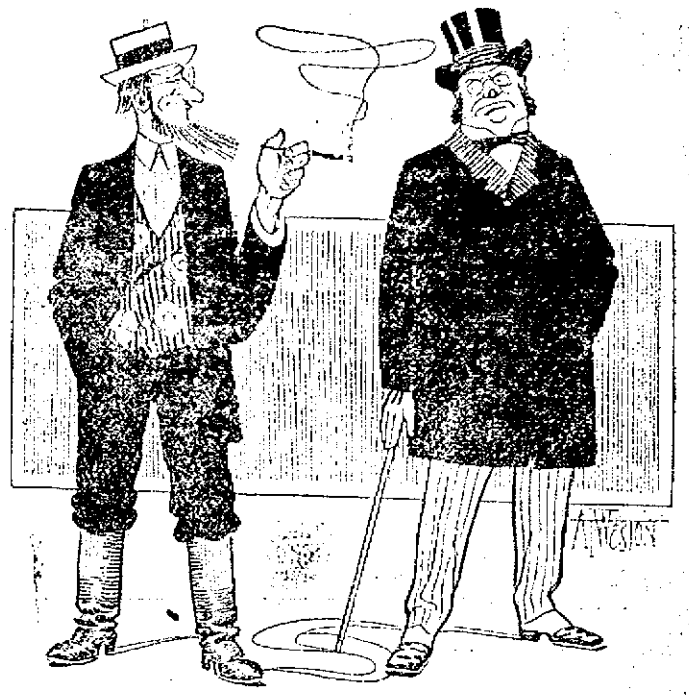
Kitty: "The Fourth of July is over, Mabel, and you really shouldn't do it."
Mabel: "Do what?"
Kitty: "Use so much powder."

HARD TO ESTIMATE.

"What was the value of the things your boy shot off on the Fourth?"
"It's hard to estimate."
"Hard to estimate?"
"Yes. You see, he shot off two fingers."

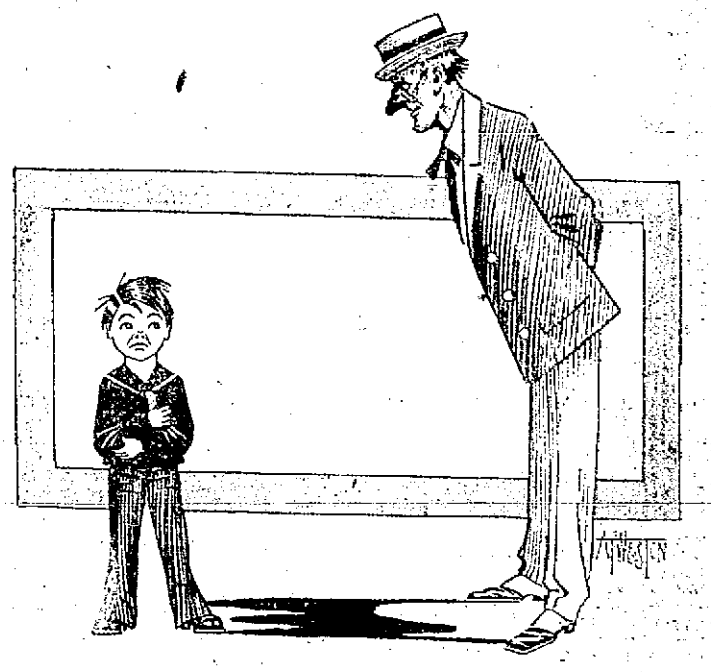
THE OLD GENTLEMAN GETS THE BEST OF IT.

APPRECIATION.



The Orator: "What did you think of my Fourth of July speech?"
The Farmer: "I kind of enjoyed it. I didn't follow the sense very close, but it was kind of soothin' to the ear after all them other noises."

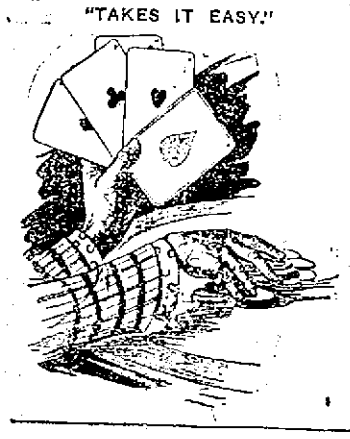
EASY.



The Man: "What's the matter with your thumb, Johnny?"
The Boy: "Aw, it's jus' Fourth of Julyed."

A SCHOONER GOING INTO THE DOC.

"TAKES IT EASY."



PACKING THE TRUNK FOR THE VACATION TRIP.

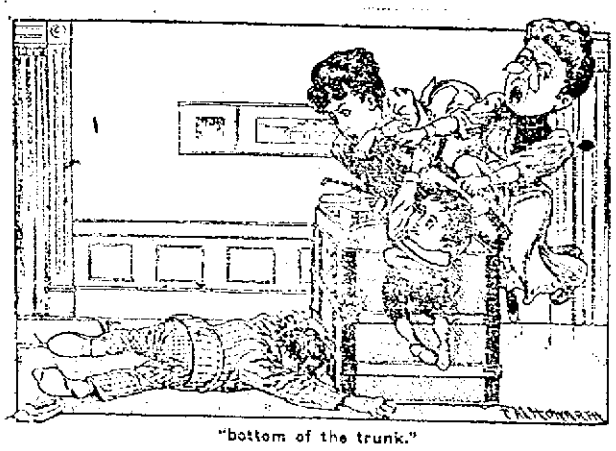
"If you will only exert yourself, William, you can get the lid down far enough to lock it.

"Can't you possibly get it down any farther with my added weight? No?

"That is right, Clara. Your 120 pounds will do it, I'm sure. Now, all together!

"Eureka! Eureka! I told you we could do it, William!"

Husband and Father (feebly): "Where's the key?"
Edwin: "I saw it in the—



"bottom of the trunk."

A PIG IN A POKE.

"MAKING A KNIGHT OF IT."

AFTER THE FOURTH.

"The cannon went off all of a sudden, mum, as he wuz a blowin' into it. You had better put him to bed, for I think his stummick is filled with powder!"

He Had Been There.

"The grounds of our new Country club," said the enthusiastic suburbanite, "are magnificently situated. The scenery is lovely. On entering the grounds the first thing that strikes the eye"—

"I know," interrupted the city man. "A golf ball."

Sure.

Johnny—What's silence, Freddy?

Freddy — It is what you don't hear when you listen.

A MISPLACED FOURTH OF JULY ORATION.

"Now, beloved children, bear in mind the deeds of our forefathers. Do as they did. Imitate their fight for independence."

They did! It was a glorious day.

The Only Thing to Say.

"What would you say," began the veritable picture of woe, "if I were to tell you that in a very short space of time all the rivers in this country would dry up?"

"I would say," replied the patient man, "Go home and do likewise!"

Fixed to Fit.

"He is too good for this world."

"Yes, or any other."

"Still, if he were named a tribe he might do for Mars."

ARRESTED AS SPY

Man Said to be American Citizen

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Passengers who have just arrived here from southern ports tell of the arrest by officials of the Guatemalan government of H. Barrington, said to be an American citizen as a spy. The passengers say that they expect to hear that he has been put to death. They claim that the evidence against him was plain, he having papers in his possession which proved beyond doubt that he was a spy from Salvador and that he was in conspiracy against President Cabrera.

Saturday, July 4th, being a holiday, money should be deposited in the Five Cent Savings Bank on or before July 3rd in order to draw interest from this Quarter Day.

LOWELL IS GROWING

Any progressive business concern, particularly a public service corporation, must not only keep up to the times, but a good bit ahead of them as well. In this policy is secured a mutual satisfaction for customer and company alike. We trace the remarkable increase in our business during the past five years to the natural growth of Lowell industrially and financially. Local pessimists can take the other side of the street, but we prefer the sunny side, and are now preparing to handle a further growth of business.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

Our old method of reading consumers' meters and rendering gas bills the city over, the last few days of each month, does not fit present conditions and won't fit future conditions. So we are changing it.

GAS METERS AND GAS BILLS

Beginning July 1st our men will read meters each business day in different parts of the city, covering the entire city once a month. Bills for readings taken Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be delivered Wednesday afternoon, and bills for readings taken Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be delivered Saturday afternoon. Bills to be rendered during the first half of July will necessarily be for a partial month's consumption; but all bills will show the dates meters were read, so you may know exactly what you are paying.

Future readings of your meter will follow about every thirty days, beginning with the date of the July reading.

The bill comes to you inside of a day or two from the day of reading the meter, and you have a week in which to pay it and get the usual discount.

JULY GAS BILLS

Watch for your bill and pay it before the close of business on the date printed in large type on its face. Gas bills should be paid at the general office of the company, 22 Shattuck street, but payments will also be received at the offices and sug-agencies of the American Express Company located in your vicinity.

OFFICE HOURS

From July 1st, the general office will close Saturday at 12 o'clock, and on other business days be open from 8 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

The Furniture Repairs

There is no better time to have them done than the summer months. While you are away the furniture can be sent to our workshop, where needed repairs and finishing will be done in a skilful and workmanship manner, at a less expense than we can do it during the busy fall season. We make this offer of a less price at this time to keep our men employed during July and August. Telephone to us and we will send the foreman to estimate the expense of your work.

CHAS J. GLIDDEN

NORTH ADAMS, July 2.—Charles J. Glidden, the Boston automobilist and aeronaut, had the unusual experience of being chased for fifteen miles by a thunderstorm while several thousand feet above the earth in his new balloon "Boston' today. Mr. Glidden's ascension was made before dawn and he was unaccompanied, thus fulfilling at one time two of the pilots requirements of the Aero club of America, namely a night ascension and making an ascension alone.

It had been planned to make the ascension at midnight but on account of a thunderstorm in the vicinity of Holyoke Mr. Glidden did not ascend until 2.57 a. m. His balloon took a northeasterly direction and at 4.15 he landed on a farm four and a half miles north of Wilmington, Vt., about 15 miles in an air line from this city.

The greatest elevation reached by the balloon was 4160 feet. Immediately after rising Mr. Glidden said that the thunder clouds began to surround him and until he landed he was pursued by an electrical storm. By keeping his balloon at the same elevation as the clouds he was able to keep ahead of the storm. He used a double trailing line for the first time and he reported after landing that it had been a great help to him in keeping the "Boston" steady and also facilitated his landing.

Mr. Glidden tomorrow will go to Brattleboro, Vt., to testify against the two men who are under arrest on the charge of firing at the balloon in which Mr. Glidden and Leo Stevens of New York made an ascension a few days ago.

BROWN TAIL MOTH

Some conception of the multitudinousness of brown-tail moths may be gathered from the fact that on Tuesday night when they invaded Lowell in hundreds of thousands, Boston was literally swarmed with them. They swept into the city in clouds and great alarm was felt because so much had been said of the aggravating moth itch. In Boston the telephones to the office of the superintendent of state work against gypsy and brown-tail moths were busy. Thousands of people called up the department to notify it of the great flight of brown-tails which swept into the city, and to ask what could be done about it.

Supt. A. H. Kirkland, who has charge of the state campaign against the moths, said yesterday:

"We have had telephone messages from all around Boston and from the city itself relative to the numbers of moths to be seen, but on the whole they are not quite so numerous as they were in 1904, the year before the state took up the moth work for the present campaign.

"Since that work has been in progress we have kept down the brown-tail moths only in the residential sections of the various cities and towns, and have devoted our work almost wholly to the gypsy moths, which are far more dangerous to our trees and much more difficult to control.

"The result has been that in the woodland districts they have gone on breeding and increasing in numbers yearly. We can do nothing with them in the woodlands because it would cost more than $1,000,000 to do any really effective work against them there, and if we did go ahead and spend such a great sum in fighting the brown-tail moths the first strong northerly wind we might get in the flying period of the insects would bring them from New Hampshire in millions to undo all the work we had been engaged in. It would all have to be done over again, with the same probability of infestation from other states.

"Last year there was a very good outbreak of the fungous diseases which has been destroying the brown-tail moths, and this killed off so many of them that they were not seen in the flying period in such numbers as at present. During the present season there has been less of this fungous disease in the woods. It has not been abundant about Boston, so that the brown-tail moths have increased in the woodlands and on private estates to an extent which accounts for the tremendous flight of last night.

"The big flight this season has not been entirely unexpected. For a considerable period we have seen that the flight of the insects this year would be very early. In fact, it is about two weeks in advance of the usual time, as the season for them has been about that much forward all year.

"During the past few days we have had hot weather, and this had aided the insects in their pupating work and has caused them to emerge as moths almost simultaneously. The big flight last night was a natural consequence. The probabilities are that for the next two or even four nights we shall see similar flights, and anything like a high wind will drive the moths very long distances.

"The electric lights toll them from a considerable distance, for we have the record of their swarming aboard the Bangor boat while she was 25 miles out at sea. With a bright moon the moths will soar toward it until they become discouraged, and any brisk air current in the upper air will then carry them long distances.

"Last night there was a new moon, which gave almost no light, and the general darkness caused them to wing their way to the lights of the cities and towns. In the early evening they rise above the trees and the first brilliant group of lights they espy attracts them. That accounts for their centering about such places as the terminal station at Sullivan square, the amusement parks, etc.

"Our course it is somewhat of a hardship to the city or town into which they swarm, but they are very easily handled and destroyed, especially in the moth form. About 94 percent of those seen on the light poles and such places are males and the other 6 percent will not lay their eggs until they find foliage, and many of them remain about the lights and never succeed in that effort.

"Those moths seen today clustered on the electric light poles can be easily destroyed by the use of a rough brush, or by turning a fairly strong stream of water from a hose. After they have been washed from the poles, if the man in charge of the hose will only wash them about in the dirt with the stream for a moment they will not be killed, but they will never fly again, and so die on the ground. They do not, so far as has been seen, eat anything while in the moth stage of their existence.

"They may also be readily killed by being sprayed with a kerosene emulsion or even by the application of common soapsuds. We have received word that in many of the districts men are at work destroying them by means of hose streams, and also through the use of wire brushes."

THOUSANDS KILLED.

Thousands of brown-tail moths were killed by the shower this afternoon. The big drops and the rain falling in winding sheets searched the moths out, washed them from wall and post and into the street where a slow death awaited them.

BLESSED SLEEP

Enjoyed by Mazdaznans After Night Ceremonies

The quiet of Chelsea, or, more impressive still, the quiet of the scene of the burial of Sir John Moore was upon Columbus avenue this morning and the glory of a beautiful sun was reflected on the somewhat pretentious temple, "Spenta Maria," when a reporter for The Sun wended his sinful way through the avenue where trod the blessed of "the little master," Dr. Hanish.

The temple was wrapped in silence and no child stood there disputing with the doctor and arguing with him. The temple is a renovated barn, yet who would dare to point the finger of scorn at barn or stable? They are sacred to humanity because He who rules all kingdoms, forgiving even the sins of the reporters and the eccentricities of the Mazdaznans, was in a stable born.

CARACAS, Ven., Wednesday, July 1, via Willemstad, July 2.—President Castro has sent the following cablegram to Mrs. Grover Cleveland:

"The death of Mr. Cleveland is a cause for mourning throughout the entire continent. Venezuela expresses its sorrow to you as the faithful representative of Mr. Cleveland's public virtues.

"In this manner President Castro binds with cordial bonds the Venezuelan and American peoples acting in memory of the man who maintained these bonds inviolate through all contingencies."

CARACAS, Ven., Wednesday, July 1, via Willemstad, July 2.—The court of cassation today confirmed the decision of the civil courts of first instance condemning the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Co., to pay a fine of $5,000,000 to the Venezuelan government. No appeal from this last judgment is possible.

THREE JUDGES

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., July 2.—The office of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today denied the recently published statement that Andrew Carnegie and William J. Bryan are among the judges to award the Pugsley prize offered by the Mohonk conference for the best essay on international arbitration by an American college student. The secretary of the conference stated that the judges appointed by the conference at its recent meeting are John W. Foster, Judge George Gray of Delaware and President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia.

Wm. H. Looney of the Cadet band and leader of the Academy of Music orchestra is playing C clarinet with the John Egan concert band at Electric Park, Baltimore, Md., for the summer season.

THE HORSES FELL

While Responding to Alarm of Fire

The alarm from box 92 shortly after the thunder storm broke this afternoon was for a fire in a telegraph pole in Eighteenth street. The pole was struck by lightning and was burning good and briskly when the firemen arrived. A man who had passed the pole and who was about ten yards beyond when it was struck, and whose name could not be learned, was knocked down. He recovered quickly, however, and went his way.

On the way to the fire the pair of horses attached to the Westford street chemical fell on the Centralville bridge just as a car was passing. It was a bad looking mixup for a few minutes but it was soon straightened out and no serious harm resulted.

THE COSSACKS

LONDON, July 2.—The protest uttered by the British government, has resulted in the withdrawal of the Persian Cossacks who have been guarding the approaches to the British legation at Teheran because of the presence in the legation of Persian refugees. The refugees are still in the legation building and the Shah's government has been informed that written guarantees for their lives, persons and property will be required before they are given up.

Advices received at the foreign office here show that the lives of Englishmen and English interests in Persia are not in danger.

GLORIOUS FOURTH

The bells on all the mills and school houses and the chimes of St. Patrick's and St. Anne's churches will ring their salutes on July 4th, at sunrise, noon and sunset.

A firing squad in command of Capt. Gardner Pearson will fire salutes at sunrise, noon and sunset, two at the South common and one at the North common. The militia men will use their celebrated Spanish cannon, a relic of the war with Spain.

MEAT MARKETS

WILL BE OPENED FOR A WHILE ON SATURDAY.

The meat markets, The Sun was informed this afternoon, will keep open late tomorrow night and for part of the forenoon Saturday. The Saturday opening they say is necessary because that the next day will be Sunday.

OFF TO NEW YORK

Peter Desmond, Harry Ross, Dennis Healey, John Hall and Charles Shanley will leave this city tomorrow for the national convention of the Leather Workers of America to open at New York, July 6. The above named constitute the regular delegation of the local branch of the organization, but this branch has three of the national officers also, namely, James Gilligan, national president; Peter Turnquist, second general vice president; Daniel McMullen, national organizer. These gentlemen leave tonight for the convention city.

WILLIAM COLLINS

A young man giving his name as William Collins and his residence as Bridgeport, was arrested in Merrimack square this afternoon by Inspector Walsh.

About 1.30 o'clock this afternoon a young man called at the police station and reported that he had been flim-flammed by a couple of strangers. He said he and the two strangers were playing pool and when he tendered a five dollar bill to pay for the game they grabbed it and started for the door.

He protested against the robbery and then one of the men threw back two dollars at him.

When the complainant faced Collins at the police station he identified him as the man who picked up his money.

Collins was booked for larceny and locked up. A young man who was placed under arrest with Collins was allowed to go as there was nothing to hold him on.

Benjamin Hankett has gone to Meredeth, N. H., to fill an important engagement. He expects to be gone until next spring.

ROURKE IS HAPPY

Gets Four Weeks' Pay in Bunch

Joseph Rourke, the courteous and efficient clerk in the office of Building Inspector Smith, will be able to enjoy the Fourth properly after all for his pay which has been held up for four weeks was presented to him in a lump today when Mayor Farnham approved the draft for the pay roll of the buildings department.

Mr. Rourke's pay was held up by Chairman Gray of the committee on accounts as Inspector Smith had increased it and the chairman questioned the inspector's right to do so. City Solicitor Hill recently gave an opinion to the effect that the inspector could increase the pay of his clerk out of his regular appropriation and Alderman Gray upon receiving the opinion promptly approved the pay roll and sent it along. It went before the mayor today and he, too, approved it so that Mr. Rourke was enabled to draw his pay for four weeks this afternoon. The increase, so-called, is in reality only a restoration to the original salary. Messrs. Kidder and Cutler, the two predecessors of Mr. Rourke, received the amount that he is now getting under the increase, the salary having been cut when Mr. Rourke went into office.

INSPECTOR OF ELEVATORS.

A morning paper commenting upon the office of Inspector of elevators states that Inspector of Buildings Smith created the job for Mr. John J. Hoar, the present incumbent. This is erroneous as the office was created by Former Inspector John J. O'Connor, who at the time had every reason to believe that he was acting within the bounds of his authority. Freeman Hersey held the position from last April until the middle of January of this year when he was succeeded by Mr. Hoar.

ON AMBULANCE

Dr. Shaw is Acting as Surgeon

Although Dr. Adam Shaw announced yesterday that he would not accept the position of ambulance surgeon for the reduced salary of $300 per year, it is a fact that he is acting as such today. Some of the members of the board of charities were much surprised to learn that Dr. Shaw would not accept the position as they were under the impression that when he sought the position some time ago he was made acquainted with the fact that the salary henceforth would be $300.

EXTRA

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During the storm this afternoon, lightning struck and set fire to two houses, one in Bodwell avenue and the other in Gerrish avenue.

It was shortly before two o'clock that a bolt of lightning struck the house owned and occupied by one Riley in Bodwell avenue. The lightning struck the ridge pole, ran along the pole for several feet, came in contact with the chimney and followed the chimney into the cellar. In some unaccountable manner the lightning also went through the chimney and entered the kitchen stove, blowing off the lids.

Several window frames were blown out and considerable of the woodwork in the interior of the house was damaged. The roof was also badly burned.

SECOND FIRE.

Lightning also struck a house in Gerrish avenue owned by H. S. Shaw. It struck the ridge pole and burned a portion of the roof.

A SEVERE STORM

Passed Over Lowell This Afternoon

A severe electrical and rain storm passed over Lowell this afternoon coming down the river and landing in about 2 o'clock. While it lasted it created quite a furore and caused the fire department to work overtime.

Three alarms of fire came in from boxes 75, 92 and 73, in quick succession calling out about all the fire apparatus in the city. The location of the boxes, the first at Moody and Riverside sts., the second at Bridge and Eighteenth streets and the third at Mammoth road and Eighth avenue, in three outlying district, made matters bad for the firemen.

The lightning played havoc with the telephone service and business places using electricity for power while several motors were burned out in electric cars causing delays in the street car service.

The storm raged for about an hour and then passed down the river. At one time the rain fell in torrents but the total rain fall for such a storm was comparatively small.

An account of the fires appears in another column.

AN UNKNOWN MAN

BOSTON, July 2.—Although the temperature in Boston today was seasonable, the humidity was extremely high and caused much suffering. An unknown man who was standing in Haymarket square dropped dead shortly afternoon. The doctors at the relief hospital say that the heat was the cause of his death, although his heart was very weak.

There were five heat prostrations reported at the relief hospital and several more at the other hospitals. The local weather bureau reports a temperature of 86 and 80 per cent. humidity early in the afternoon.

TRIED SUICIDE

NEW YORK, July 2.—Ferdinand Delga, a discharged patient of the Maine insane asylum at Augusta attempted to commit suicide today by jumping into the North river and it required the combined efforts of three longshoremen to rescue him. Yesterday Delga attempted suicide by jumping from a pier. He had a ticket for Italy on a steamer sailing today.

M. Jouvenel, editor of the Matin, fought M. Cassagnac, editor of the Autorite, with swords. M. Jouvenel was slightly wounded in the third bout. The other duel was fought yesterday by a brother of M. Jouvenel and a lawyer named Baudelot. The latter was wounded in the right arm. A jury today rendered a verdict against the Matin. The senator sued for $20,000 damages.

COLLINS FREE

Court Says He Committed No Crime

NEW YORK, July 2.—Melville Collins, who was arrested at the Sheepshead Bay race track charged with violating the new anti-gambling laws, was discharged from custody by Justice Eschoff today. The justice ruled that Collins had committed no crime in making a verbal bet. Collins' case was selected by the Jockey club for a test of the new law.

PRINCE IS ILL

BERLIN, July 2.—When Prince Zu Eulenburg appeared in court today for his trial on charges of perjury in connection with the "round table" revelations of last year he was seized by a spell of weakness. As a result of this court adjourned until tomorrow.

The newspapers are protesting against the secrecy with which the court proceedings are surrounded. They demand that summaries of the testimony be supplied to them.

How Anty Drudge Keeps Cool.

Mrs. Heatup—"Gracious, Anty, you look cool as a cucumber, and here am I dripping with perspiration. And I know you started your wash the same time I did."

Anty Drudge—"Quite true, but I wash my clothes with Fels-Naptha soap. If you used Fels-Naptha, your clothes would be washed in half the time. Besides, I didn't have to do any back-breaking rubbing over a steaming wash. I used Fels-Naptha soap the Fels-Naptha way. Why don't you?"

More white things are worn in the summer—lawns, flannels, muslins and so forth. That means more washing. Likewise more hard work—unless Fels-Naptha soap is used.

Fels-Naptha simplifies summer washing and does it more satisfactorily. No hot fire is needed. That means a good deal when the thermometer is 90 in the shade.

Fels-Naptha does the washing thoroughly in cold or lukewarm water. Cold or lukewarm water saves the clothes. Boiling and hot water weaken clothes so they tear easily.

Fels-Naptha will not harm the most delicate fabric. Neither will it injure light-colored things which could not be washed safely with other soaps or in hot water.

The advantage of using Fels-Naptha soap is the Fels-Naptha way of washing.

Don't cook your clothes. Use Fels-Naptha. It does the work better in cold or lukewarm water.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

MURDER CHARGE

NEW YORK, July 2.—A flashily dressed negro who said he was David Bogge, a porter, walked into Police headquarters last night and said that he wanted to give himself up and be sent back to Cincinnati. He had jumped his bail of $2,500 out there, he had been held, he said, on a charge of attempted murder.

Bogge told the detectives that on April 30 he had shot a negro by the name of Henry Banks in a quarrel in a Cincinnati barber shop. Banks was discharged from the hospital early in June, Bogge added, while he was out on bail pending trial.

A week ago last Saturday Bogge said he stole $290 from a woman companion and came to New York. He mixed in with negro sports of the West Side and had a good time until yesterday, when three negroes threw him on the floor of a saloon somewhere up in the San Juan Hill district and took all the money he had left.

The loss of his money, Bogge said, had recalled to him the fact that his bondsman in Cincinnati had lost $2,500 and he wished to make amends for his sudden departure.

MASKED BANDITS

COALINGA, Cal., July 2—Two masked bandits raided the Domengine ranch near here last night, and after setting fire to the outhouses kidnapped sixteen-year-old May Domengine. Later one of her captors used the girl as a shield from the bullets of the posse that pursued him, and she is now prostrated in her father's home. Her death may result from the shock of her terrifying experience.

The two men, Clark Rogers and Tony Lovcall, carried the young girl to the foothills, leaving a note for her father, saying that she would be held for $5000 ransom.

The burning of the outhouses brought a crowd of ranchmen from the neighborhood, and within an hour half a hundred armed men were on the trail of the bandits. Rogers was found in a clump of trees about ten miles away. He opened fire with his rifle as soon as his pursuers came in sight. When his fire was returned he lifted the girl from the ground, where she lay in a faint, and bound her to a tree. Kneeling behind the tree he continued firing at the posse and several men were wounded.

Under cover of the fire of those in front another party headed by the girl's brother came up behind Rogers and, leaping on him as he knelt with smoking gun in his hand, threw him to the ground. He was brought back here and is now lodged in jail.

SEVEN KILLED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 2.—A long distance telephone communication with Sedalia concerning the Missouri Pacific wreck that occurred twenty miles east of there early today is to the effect that seven are known to have been killed and a score were injured. The fast Missouri Pacific California Limited which left St. Louis at 10.30 last night and the St. Joseph Express bound to St. Louis met head-on between Lamonte and Knobnoster.

The wreckage of the engines and mail cars is reported to be in such a chaotic shape that until a wrecking train clears it away to a large extent it cannot be positively determined how many dead bodies are in the debris.

The cause of the collision has not been determined, but it is said the failure of the California Limited to take the siding near Knobnoster caused the disaster.

The track at the scene is level and without curves but a heavy fog prevailed at the time and prevented the engineers from seeing ahead any distance.

A special train bearing all available physicians in Sedalia went to the scene and it is believed the dead and injured will be brought back here.

The California Limited carried two mail cars, baggage car, two chair cars, two sleepers and an observation dining car.

MEXICAN TROUBLE

DALLAS, Texas, July 2.—That the reports of uprisings in Mexico are greatly exaggerated is the statement of J. Corwin, a prominent mining man of Guanajuato, Mexico, who is now in Dallas.

"This so-called revolution," said Mr. Corwin, "is nothing more nor less than a sortie on the part of organized bands of robbers and desperados who are covering up their crookedness under the guise of politics.

"These revolutions occur periodically. They are incited by a few former Mexicans who now are residents of the United States."

THEATRE VOYONS

Today one of the best of the season's programs was presented at the Theatre Voyons. "The Patriot," is an intensely interesting story of a battle in the Civil war and several of its scenes are sensational in the extreme. "The Tale the Shoes Told," is one good picture. It tells in a different way than usual of the courtship and marriage of a young couple. Mother-in-law appears on the scene but in a short time she goes too far in her efforts to run the home and her daughter sends her away much to her disgust. "The Midnight Burglars," is a clever comedy and "The Unfortunate Lovers" is in the same class. "Cecelia With a Capital C," is a bright new song finely sung and "The Lanky Yankee Boys in Blue," has been brought back for the fourth week.

Tomorrow night the Theatre Voyons will not be closed but will remain open to accommodate the "Night Before" crowds. At eleven there will be a complete change of bill and a show in keeping with the celebration presented.

FRANK B. KELLOGG

NEW YORK, July 2.—Frank B. Kellogg, committeeman from Minnesota, is still the storm center of the situation over the chairmanship of the republican national committee and the only reason this puzzling problem has not been settled satisfactorily it is believed here is Mr. Kellogg's unwillingness to serve. National Committeemen Kellogg and Ward spent three hours in close conference with President Roosevelt yesterday. Mr. Kellogg does not care to give up his work of prosecution of the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

NOT THE MAN

INSPECTOR FAILS TO IDENTIFY NEGRO.

MONROE, Mich., July 2.—Postoffice Inspector Smart of Chicago arrived here today with Inspector Davis of Denver and after inspecting the negro taken into custody here Tuesday evening on suspicion of being Charles Savage, alias Stevenson, wanted for alleged connection with the $50,000 registered mail robbery at Kansas City declared that he is not Savage. There is a resemblance but Davis who once arrested Savage unhesitatingly declared the prisoner is not the much wanted mailrobber. The negro says his name is E. L. Thomas and that he is a solicitor of funds for a negro home at Macon, Ga.

UTICA READY

TO GIVE SHERMAN A GREAT RECEPTION.

UTICA, N. Y., July 2.—When Representative James S. Sherman reaches Utica this evening he will be greeted by a monster procession in which local, military, civic and fraternal organizations will take part and will be escorted to his residence, something over a mile from the depot. Magnificent decorations line the way, every building showing something in the nature of welcome. Great quantities of fireworks will be set off and a dozen or fifteen bands will provide music.

Brief addresses will be made at Mr. Sherman's house by the mayor, John D. Kernan and perhaps others. It is not expected that Mr. Sherman will make reply. The celebration has not followed party lines.

1900 TICKETS TO WILD WEST SHOW.

While there are a number of citizens of Lowell who are of a philanthropic nature, never before has one of those men hit upon a plan to give poor boys an outing as acceptable as the plan suggested by a Lowell man who intends to distribute 1000 tickets for the Buffalo Bill wild west show to worthy boys between the ages of nine and eleven years.

One of the most interesting and inspiring attractions that comes to a city during the course of a year is a circus or wild west show and what boy has not made his escape from the house in the wee small hours of the morning to witness the unloading of the trains, the raising of the tent and methodical arrangement of every detail? Then again the same boy has baked under the hot sun either waiting or following the street parade. If he was lucky he might get inside, but hundreds never see more than the outside of the canvas.

It is for this reason that one of Lowell's most prominent citizens, who does not care to have his name divulged hit upon this novel plan of making the boys happy.

None but boys who will conduct themselves in a proper manner will be allowed to go.

At a meeting held yesterdy the final arrangements for the distribution of tickets was made. The committee has planned for a systematic inquiry as to the worthy boys. Slips will be issued to each boy asking him to fill out the blank by giving his name, address and other detail. The following instructions are printed on the form:

This pass will entitle the bearer—who must be between the ages of 9 and 11—to one ticket to the Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

On July 5, at 12 o'clock noon, you will report on Paige street, where there will be a number of special cars waiting.

You will make no noise and there must be no crowding. The first to come will get into the first car and sit quietly, six in a seat.

Have this pass filled out plainly, giving your name, street and age, and the conductor will take it up, giving you in return a ticket for the show.

When you reach the grounds, you will keep your seat in the car until you leave in the following order:

The boys in the first car will leave beginning at the forward seat, and leave in order, seat after seat, until the car is empty. The boys on the next car will do the same, and so on, until all the cars are emptied. The boys on the first car will form a line of two by two and the boys on the cars following will fall into line in the same manner.

After the show is over you will keep your seats until all the other people have left the tent, then come out in line and there will be cars waiting to take you to Merrimack suare.

To each boy will be given a booklet, containing four small poems which he is expected to memorize.

CONVERY HIKED

And 8 Hour Movement Lost a Champion

AND BOX 52 RANG IN

And "Joe" is a Call Fireman

"Joe Convery was up here last night to advocate eight hours for city employes and before he had a chance to speak he was called upon to work overtime himself," said Papa Delmage, the sage of city hall, in discussing last night's hearing, an account of which appears in another column, at city hall, today.

And thereby hangs a good story at the expense of the popular labor man.

"Joe," aside from being a carpenter in the employ of the city, is also a call fireman and a member of Hose 8, of Merrimack street. Mr. Convery is prominent in labor circles and has taken an active part in every movement to advance the cause of the working people of Lowell in the past decade. He was one of the principal advocates of the eight-hour movement for city employes and was to have been one of the principal speakers at last night's hearing. But the speakers had assembled and everything was in readiness for the hearing when an alarm from box 52 rang in. Hose 8 runs to 52 and upon counting the box "Joe" dashed out of the mayor's reception room and up Merrimack street on the dead run and was soon working like a Trojan at the fire in Merrimack street. By the time that the recall had sounded and the firemen were excused the hearing was all over and "Joe" was unable to deliver the fine argument that he had carefully nursed for the occasion.

BISHOP POTTER

Is Reported to be Growing Weaker

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 2.—There is no change in Bishop Potter's condition since the last bulletin issued last night except that the patient is growing perceptibly weaker. He retains consciousness and is reported to be cheerful. He is still free from pain.

One of the newspapers of the village suggests that out of respect to the noter patiaent the usual Fourth of July demonstrations be dispensed with.

were resting because of the strenuousness of last night. It was a rough night on the coast for the Mazdaznans and it would have been rougher, perhaps, but for the timely arrival of the police. Those of the cult with whom the reporter talked this morning, however, would not admit that their meeting last night had been disturbed by a mob, but, nevertheless, it was.

The avenue to the temple was not being patroled by the police this morning and was without protection except the silent watch of the Mazdaznan garbage barrels and thereby hangs a tale responsible for the presence of the police upon the scene last night.

According to the rites of the church all refuse from the table must be burned. In accordance with this custom, church followers carted the refuse into the street in front of the temple and were getting ready for the wai dance when neighbors interposed, and said: Garbage shall not burn tonight."

Dr. Hanish and his little band declared that they would not stand for any interference on the part of the "swine" and they were going to burn that garbage or know the reason why. Now it came to pass that the Mazdaznans knew not of the new law forbidding the building of bonfires or rubbish fires in the streets between the first of April and last of October. The Mazdaznans were too busily engaged in reading "Inner Studies" to pay any attention to the announcement in the newspapers prohibiting the building of fires in the street, and with all their knowledge, sipped from flowers, fertilized through sand, and sucked from rhubarb, they were ignorant of the law in question.

When the police officer told the "holy" ones last night that they must not burn the garbage in the street, they laughed at him, but when they found that the "cop" meant business they retreated to the temple where the "little master" was running, not literally, a bunch of reporters through a hay cutter.

Four of the faithful with whom The Sun reporter talked today, said that quite a number of the local and visiting delegates had gone to Boston this morning. "I would have gone," said one, "but I was too tired."

"Is it true," asked the reporter, "that the doctor was robbed of his gown last night by an angry mob, and the mob trampled his gown into the dirt?"

That was the signal for the little woman to get busy and if there was one thing more than another that struck the reporter, it was the looseness, abandon and brevity of the woman's attire. Rigged as she was he knew there was no danger of a bursting blood vessel should she become ever so angry. So far as clothing was concerned she was free as a prairie colt and she "whooped 'er up" at her own sweet will.

"Indeed no," she said, answering to the question having to do with the alleged assault upon the doctor and his yellow jacket. "There is no danger that harm shall befall him," she said. She spoke of Hanish as "The Master." "He is as God," she rhapsodized. "He is beautiful—a living example of how our belief keeps us young. He is forty but does not look twenty-three. And he is a Hindoo. He was a prince before he came here and is worth millions."

The reporter asked her if the Mazdaznans had not made a trifling mistake in enjoining celibacy, since if that rule were adhered to there would soon be no world and no Mazdaznans.

"The others," she said, as she gingerly snapped a brown-tail from the reporter's coat, "those outside the faith will people the world for us." At this point, however, the interview was slightly interrupted by a bright little baby that toddled out and addressed the lady whom the scribe supposed to be unmarried, as "Mamma." But then, no doubt, this woman was but recently introduced to the mysteries of the cult.

This little woman was somewhat disturbed to learn that several copies of "Inner Studies" had reached others than "the faithful" in Lowell.

"I am sorry to hear that," she said, "the outside world is conventional, that it is not prepared to receive the doctrine of the Mazdaznan," and that was one point on which the little woman, the holy and the unholy, agreed.

"Convention," she said, "has held the world back and it is our purpose to wipe it away. Dr. Hanish has universal knowledge and is immensely wealthy. He is doing this work out of the goodness of his heart, not for profit. He has a $45,000 temple in Chicago, and a temple in Teheran, Persia. He has the Hindoo lore of thousands of years," and the reporter felt like saying, "to make a long story short he's a corker."

Today's program called for open air services and celebration in honor of Ahura Mazda and visiting delegates, but there was nothing doing up to the time that the reporter, in order to catch his first edition, folded his tent and, ducking the brown-tail moths, boarded the special for Merrimack square.

The program for this week and Monday, which is the last day, is as follows:

Thursday, July 2—Open air services and celebration in honor of Ahura Mazda and visiting delegates. Open to suggestions.

Friday, July 3—3.15 p. m.—Discussion on Means for Relieving Poverty in Overcrowded Cities and the Duties of the Government. 7.30 p. m.—War and Peace Questions. Open for discussion. Declaration of Peace. America, the Savior Nation. Mazdaznan the Saving Power of America.

Benediction to all the World. 3.15 p. m.—Temple Banquet to Visiting Delegates. "Old Glory Speeches" by Patriarch Dr. George W. Hilton, President W. K. Sandberg and others.

Sunday, July 5—11.00 a. m.—Reunion Service. "Peace that Conquers," Maria Elizabeth Ruth Hilton. "Peace that Passeth All Understanding." Ambassador Hooper Mallet. 12.30 p. m.—Holy Eucharist. Healing the Sick. Open. 3.15 p. m.—Blessing of Delegates. 7.30 p. m.—Covenant Service. Triune Benediction.

Monday, July 6—11.00 a. m.—Farewell service and Declaration for the Seventh Gahanbar in the Holy City.

THIRTY DEATHS

At City Farm From Delirium Tremens

ANNUAL REPORT OF CITY PHYSICIAN

Contains Some Very Interesting Statistics

City Physician Forster H. Smith has submitted his annual report, the first report in detail ever issued by a city physician in Lowell.

In his introductory remarks, Dr. Smith says: "One hundred and eighteen more patients have received treatment this year than last, making the total treated during the year 756. There were 126 deaths, 60 males and 66 females. Fourteen children were born in the maternity ward; nine males and five females.

We treated 40 cases of consumption during the year. I would recommend that some provision be made for isolating these cases from the other patients.

I recommend also increasing the number of nurses, that the male hospital may have a nurse to attend the patients in that department during the night.

Included in the cases treated during the year are the following: Alcoholism 75, debility 38, influenza 10, old age 24, paralysis 10, rheumatism 22, cocaine poisoning 1, morphine poisoning 1. These are but eight of 27 causes of death from general diseases. Then come diseases of the circulatory system including anaemia, apoplexy, heart disease, etc., with a total of 68 deaths. Diseases of the respiratory system, asthma, bronchitis, pleurisy, pneumonia, etc., were responsible for 98 deaths and 10 diseases of the nervous system is accredited 133 deaths, including 30 from delirium tremens.

The following table gives the ages of the different patients treated during the year 1907:

Under 20 years of age	55
Between 20 and 40 years	198
Between 40 and 60 years	285
Between 60 and 80 years	192
Over 80 years of age	26
Total	756

The following table gives the ages of those who died:

	Males	Females
Under 1 year of age	4	3
Between 1 year and 10 years	1	0
Between 10 years and 20 years	0	1
Between 20 years and 30 years	1	6

MEXICAN TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Word has been received at the Mexican embassy that Enrique Creel, the ambassador from Mexico to the United States, who is coming here for consultation with the state department in connectiond with the border situation, will arrive in Washington next week. The state department officials, however, express their belief that the acute phase of Mexico's internal troubles for the time being have passed into history. Mexico, the officials say, can have no complaint against the United States of inactivity in meeting the situation for the reports which have come from the officers charged with the enforcement of the neutrality law show they have acted with promptness and zeal.

HEAVILY ARMED

TROOPS READY TO MEET ATTACK ON TOWN.

EL PASO, Tex., July 2.—Mayor Mattus of Juarez, across the river from here, city officials and Commandant Ponce de Leon early today began gathering together at police headquarters, all heavily armed, and troops and police are held in readiness to respond to a call to repulse an attack on the town. Merchants have been notified that they must protect their own property in case of trouble.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

To Visit Boat Named After Him

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 2.—President Roosevelt will visit Commander Peary's Arctic exploring steamer Roosevelt, which was named after him on Monday afternoon if the plans of the Peary Arctic club are successful. It is the intention of the club to have the Roosevelt run into Oyster Bay on her way from New York to the north pole and salute the president and if the club can make the arrangement the president will go out and inspect the craft. In all probability Commander Peary will accompany the Roosevelt as far as Oyster Bay, leaving her here to continue on her way to Sydney, C. B., where he will join her.

The president always has been a warm admired of the Arctic explorer and is interested in his attempt to plant the stars and stripes at the north pole.

BRYAN'S CALLERS

Encountered a Driving Storm at Lincoln

LINCOLN, Neb., July 2.—A driving rain pounding into W. J. Bryan's alfalfa field and turning to mud the road which leads from the street car line to the Fairview driveway, was a matter of regret to the democratic presidential candidate this morning.

One of Mr. Bryan's visitors was Congressman Sulzer of New York. Mr. Sulzer announced himself in thorough accord with the political views of Mr. Bryan and came to Fairview to talk platform and New York politics. He is particularly interested in having the platform declare for his scheme of building up American shipping by a tax which shall discriminate against foreign bottoms.

John W. Kern, whose name has been prominently mentioned for second place on the ticket, and Congressman Clayton of Alabama, who is said to be slated for permanent chairman of the convention, also called.

HARRY ORCHARD

Saved From Hanging by Pardon Board

BOISE, Ida., July 2.—The state board of pardons yesterday commuted the sentence of Harry Orchard, who was under sentence to be hanged Friday for the murder of ex-Gov. Frank Steunenberg, to imprisonment for life.

Orchard was arrested two days after the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg at Caldwell, Ida., Dec. 30, 1905, and confessed his guilt, asserting that he was employed to commit the crime by officers of the western federation of miners. As a result of his confession Charles H. Moyer, president; William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the western federation of miners, and Charles D. Pettibone were arrested and brought to Idaho to answer the charge of murder.

CHANGES CLERKS

Gilchrist is Made First Assistant

BOSTON, July 2.—William Gilchrist, seventh assistant clerk of the superior civil court for Suffolk county, was promoted to first assistant to succeed Edward A. Willard, who was reduced to seventh assistant by the justices of the superior court yesterday, at the instance of Francis A. Campbell, clerk of the court.

The action of the court caused a sensation at the court house. For more than 30 years Mr. Willard has been assistant clerk of the court. He is the son of the late Joseph A. Willard, for many years clerk of the court.

The position of first assistant carries with it a salary of $3000, that of seventh assistant $2500.

The court consulted Mr. Campbell as to his choice for first assistant and he suggested Mr. Gilchrist. Both clerks were greatly surprised to learn of the change.

TAUGHT TO STEAL

Girl Makes Charge Against Woman

NEW YORK, July 2.—"I wanted to be a good little girl, but she wouldn't let me; I didn't want to steal, but she said she would whip me if I didn't do as she told me to."

In a piping voice, Annie Wilson, Brooklyn's 9-year-old girl thief, who confessed to more than 40 robberies when arrested Tuesday night, thus accused Mrs. Julia Campbell of 340 Flushing avenue in the Lee avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday. Mrs. Campbell, who was locked up after little Annie had told her story to Police Capt. Cruise, was held without bail by Magistrate Higginbotham for trial on July 6.

"She' lies. I never taught her to steal. I was a mother to her," was Mrs. Campbell's reply to the child's accusation, but when her home was searched the detectives found $100 worth of stolen clothing. Ten silk skirts, fur neck pieces, shirtwaists, expensive hats, handbags and dozens of other articles were among the lot.

Thin and emaciated, the child was a pitiful object when arraigned before the magistrate.

FORTY INJURED

NEW YORK, July 2.—Forty persons were injured when a southbound Third avenue car crashed into an eastbound First avenue car at 59th street and Third avenue in the height of the rush hour last night. Five were injured so severely as to necessitate their removal to a hospital. Both cars were crowded and many persons were standing. The Third avenue car struck the other in the middle, hurling it partly from the tracks and throwing the forward part against an L pillar. The car would have been overturned but for the pillar.

The air was filled with flying glass and splintered wood. The passengers shrieked and several women fainted. While waiting for the ambulances, policemen, assisted by many volunteers, carried the injured from the two cars to the sidewalk. On the curb many of the women recovered.

STARTLING PLOT

LISBON, July 2.—Dr. Jose Maria de Alpoim, chief of the Progressive Dissidents, smarting under the insinuations that he was implicated in the assassinations in Lisbon last February of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz, created a sensation in the house of lords today by revealing what he declared to be the true history of this regicide plot. He asserted that the assassinations had been decided upon at a meeting of the leaders of the Progressive and Regenerator party a few days before they were carried out. A number of republicans also were present at this meeting. Dr. Alpoim charged further that the republicans proposed to obliterate the entire royal family with the exception of Maria Pia, the mother of King Carlos, but that the monarchists insisted that such a general slaughter would be useless. Finally Manuel Silva Buissa and Alfred O. Costa were given $20,000 and $10,000 respectively to kill King Carlos and Premier Franco. Arrangements were made by other men to cover the flight of the assassins, but when Buissa and Costa fired, their friends lost their heads and opened fire also. These shots resulted in the death of Prince Luiz.

OFFICIALS HELD

Boston Men Charged With Conspiracy

BOSTON, July 2.—Three of the boiler and iron works officials recently arrested on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston through collusion in bidding for city contracts by means of what has been termed the "Boston agreement" were held for the grand jury by Judge Bolster in the municipal court today and a fourth was discharged from custody. The men who were held are John E. Lynch of the Hodge Boiler Works, Charles Kopman of the Cunningham Iron works and Duncan D. Russell of the James Russell Boiler Works.

Alfred E. Cox of the Atlantic Iron Works was discharged on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to hold him. The court fixed the bonds of each of the three men held at $1500, representing $500 on each of three charges.

Seven manufacturers were originally arrested on these charges. Three of them waived examination when brought into court last month and were held for the grand jury. The cases of the others were continued until today.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

In this day of improvements in all lines of business, the demand for novelties is nowhere greater than in the theatrical world. Play-goers demand something out of the ordinary to excite their interest, and with this demand in mind, the Adam Good company will offer at Lakeview theatre next week, in its production of "The Wayward Son," one of the most realistic and thrilling railroad scenes ever presented on the local stage. Although this may seem to be a broad statement, yet the Adam Good company feels safe in saying that everyone who attends the performance of "The Wayward Son" will come away puzzled as to how such a wonderful effect could have been worked on an ordinary stage. A locomotive is used in the third act of the play that is 32 feet in length, has practical revolving wheels, driving rods working steadily, stack belching forth smoke, steam escaping from the exhausts, a real fire box, a practical steam whistle and glaring headlight. This locomotive was built after a model of what is known as the Great Mogul, a type of engine used on most of the western railways, it weighs over 1000 pounds when taken apart it requires one big scene truck to transport it alone, and the stage at Lakeview had to be especially strengthened to permit of its use next week.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST YOUNG GIRLS

FROM INFORMATION RECEIVED AT THIS OFFICE WE ARE CONVINCED THAT THERE IS A STEADY CONSPIRACY CARRIED ON BY CERTAIN MEN FOR THE ENTRAPMENT OF INNOCENT YOUNG GIRLS BY LURING THEM INTO THE ROOMS OF SINGLE MEN ON ONE PRETEXT OR ANOTHER.

IT IS CARRIED ON IN THIS WAY: FIRST ONE BAD GIRL IS SECURED. SHE IS OFFERED MONEY FOR MAKING THE ACQUAINTANCE OF OTHER GIRLS AND FOR BRINGING THEM INTO THE APARTMENTS OF THE MEN. ONCE THESE GIRLS BECOME VICTIMS, THEY IN TURN LEAD OTHERS IN, BEING WELL PAID FOR SO DOING. THUS YOUNG GIRLS ARE VICTIMIZED BY SUPPOSED CHUMS, WHO ARE IN A CONSPIRACY WITH VILE MEN TO ACCOMPLISH THEIR RUIN.

THE UNSUSPECTING GIRL CAN SEE NO HARM IN SPEAKING TO A GIRL OF HER OWN AGE WHO ACCOSTS HER ON THE STREET; BUT IF SHE KNEW THAT THE GIRL WHO THUS TRIES TO MAKE HER ACQUAINTANCE IS THE AGENT OF SOME NUMBER OF BAD MEN WHO HAVE EVIL DESIGNS UPON HER, SHE WOULD PERCEIVE THE WISDOM OF AVOIDING BAD COMPANY, AND ESPECIALLY THE COMPANY OF MEN OR WOMEN WHO TRY TO MAKE HER ACQUAINTANCE ON THE STREETS OR ON THE COMMONS.

IN POLICE COURT QUITE RECENTLY YOUNG GIRLS HAVE BEEN IN ON CHARGES OF STUBBORNNESS WHO WERE PLAINLY THE VICTIMS OF SUCH CONSPIRACIES AGAINST GIRLSH INNOCENCE.

THIS SHOULD BE A LESSON TO YOUNG GIRLS AND TO THEIR PARENTS. IT WILL NOT BE SAFE FOR ANY YOUNG GIRL TO STRIKE UP A CASUAL ACQUAINTANCE WITH ANY WOMAN OR GIRL ON THE STREET UNTIL THE VILE RUFFIANS WHO CARRY ON THIS PRACTICE SHALL BE CAUGHT AND PUNISHED AS BEFITS THE HEINOUSNESS OF THEIR CRIME.

MOST MOTHERS WOULD RATHER A THOUSAND TIMES SEE THEIR GIRLS CONSIGNED TO AN EARLY GRAVE THAN TO BECOME THE VICTIMS OF SUCH CONSPIRATORS AND THE DUPES OF GIRLS THEIR OWN AGE WHO HAVE PASSED THROUGH ALL THE DIFFERENT STAGES OF DEGRADATION AND NOW WANT TO BRING OTHERS DOWN TO THEIR OWN LEVEL.

WE DO NOT THINK IT SHOULD BE NECESSARY TO DO MORE THAN MENTION THIS SUBJECT TO HAVE ACTIVE STEPS TAKEN, NOT ONLY BY THE POLICE, BUT BY PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF YOUNG GIRLS TO INDUCE THE LATTER TO AVOID BAD COMPANY, TO BEWARE OF CHANCE ACQUAINTANCES ON THE STREET, WHO, BY BLANDISHMENTS OF ONE KIND OR ANOTHER, MAY TURN THEM AGAINST PARENTAL AUTHORITY AND THUS START THEM ON THE DOWNWARD PATH TO DEGRADATION AND SHAME.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

THE SCHOOL BOARD DID NOT ADOPT ANY NEW MUSICAL SYSTEM AT ITS MEETING TUESDAY EVENING. THE COMMITTEE ON TEXT BOOKS WANTED ONE VOTE TO HAVE ITS FAVORITE SYSTEM ADOPTED. THAT COMMITTEE RESORTED TO A SKILFUL METHOD OF THROWING DUST IN THE EYES OF THE PUBLIC. IT IS TO INVITE A HARVARD EXPERT TO DILATE UPON THE HARMONIC SYSTEM. WE VENTURE TO SAY THAT THIS EXPERT, WHOEVER HE MAY BE, IS KNOWN TO BE AN ADVOCATE OF THE HARMONIC SYSTEM, OR HE WOULD NOT BE INVITED. HE MAY BE AN AGENT FOR THE AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY THAT PUBLISHES THE SYSTEM.

THE COMMITTEE CHARGES THAT THE PRESENT SYSTEM IS UNSUITABLE FOR COLLEGE PURPOSES. THAT IS NO PROOF THAT IT IS UNSUITABLE FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS, FROM WHICH NOT ONE-TENTH WILL ENTER COLLEGE. THE NEEDS OF THE MAJORITY SHOULD RULE. THE PRESENT SYSTEM IS GOOD ENOUGH, AND EVEN IF IT WERE NOT, THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO CHANGE IT. WHAT IS NEEDED IS A CHANGE IN THE CITY CHARTER THAT WILL COMPEL THE SCHOOL BOARD TO ENTRUST EDUCATIONAL MATTERS TO THE SUPERINTENDENT. THERE HAS BEEN TOO MUCH DOMINATION BY COMMITTEES WITH THE RESULT THAT THE SUPERINTENDENT HAS NO POWER TO INSIST ON EDUCATIONAL RESULTS. THERE IS NO BRANCH OF THE CITY GOVERNMENT IN WHICH POLITICS RULES MORE SUPREMELY THAN IN THE SCHOOL BOARD IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT THE MEMBERS AND CERTAIN OF THEIR FRIENDS CLAIM THE CONTRARY.

EIGHT HOUR LAW

The Hearing on Its Alleged Violation

Chairman Sproule Talks All Around the Subject — Dennis Healey to the Point — Mayor Farnham Says He is Guided by the City Solicitor's Opinion

A public hearing on petition of the Trades and Labor council was held in the mayor's reception room at city hall last night. The hearing was on an alleged violation of the eight hour law in the street, sewer and police departments and though the hearing had been duly advertised and parties interested notified by the city messenger, yet when the time set for the hearing had arrived there wasn't a representative laboring man in sight. Mayor Farnham, Councilman Fielding, Superintendent of Cemeteries Mayberry and two reporters were the only ones in sight.

Mayor Farnham wondered at the vacant stare of the councilmanic chamber.

The mayor had anticipated a crowded forum. He waited fifteen minutes and at 7.45, representatives of the Trades & Labor council having failed to put in an appearance, the mayor said: "Curfew shall not ring tonight," no, beg pardon, this is what he said: "There will be no public hearing tonight," but there was, just the same.

The mayor on his way to the street was met by a bunch of labor leaders including the orator in chief, Mr. Sproule, Mr. Convrey, Mr. Healey and others. The mayor had determined not to give a hearing and explained to them that he had waited fifteen minutes. They said, "What if you did wait fifteen minutes, we've had to wait hours in this hall before we could get a chance to speak our little piece." They succeeded in convincing rederick, the honorable one, that he had acted hastily in the matter, that they represented the brain as well as the brawn and muscle of the city, and when four or five husky fellows put that kind of stuff up to a lone man on a marble stairs the lone one is liable to take a few hitches in his closs lines and back up.

The mayor argued for a little while but finally agreed to open the hearing in his reception room. Aldermen and councilmen were present then and the Trades and Labor council was well represented.

City Messenger Pattee raised the windows in the reception room in order to admit the fresh air and the brown-tail moths. It was about 8.15 when His Honor called to order and a man with half an eye could see that he was not thoroughly pleased with the turn that things had taken. The hearing, however, did not last very long. Joseph Convrey was obliged to leave before the thing had properly started. The fire alarm sounded and Joseph is a call fireman.

The meeting opened by the mayor reading the letter from the Trades and Labor council and signed by A. W. Hersome, secretary pro tem.

Mr. William E. Sproule, president of the Trades and Labor council was the first speaker. Mr. Sproule is a good talker, but there are a great many things that he doesn't know anything about, because he's human, and liable to misstatement. And, again, he says some things under the strain of great excitement. But one thing can be said about him, that seems contradictory to some of his statements, he has an honest appearance and impresses one as being an honest man.

When Mr. Sproule said that the press of Lowell had done all it could to discredit the labor leaders and the cause of labor in this city he went beyond the border line of fact, and that is too liable to happen when a man is abnormally enthusiastic and earnestly engrossed in his subject.

MR. SPROULE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Sproule said in part:

"In asking for this hearing it wasn't the mayor so much; I wanted to see the people. I understand that the people voted four to one for an eight-hour law."

The city solicitor has found that the individual can work more than eight hours a day if he so desired.

"I do not know that the city solicitor is right. The individual has no rights as against the majority and it is well for society that it is so.

"We know that our public servants have two task masters and they know what side their bread is buttered on. When it comes to interpreting law it is generally interpreted in favor of capital as against labor.

"I come here tonight in the interest of the teamsters. I don't see any of them here and I hope the reporters will make note of what I say. It may be that they are afraid of losing their jobs. I have been in that position myself. The fact remains, however, that the people voted them an eight-hour day and I do not want to see them throw away or sacrifice their rights. I am the best friend they have in Lowell.

"Some have asked me why we didn't get a lawyer. I don't think we have any use for a lawyer, except to protect us from other lawyers. That is the only excuse they have for living, so far as I can see.

"City officials should see to it that the laborer's rights are protected and the laws lived up to.

"Our mission here is to help the laboring man, and organized labor is the only friend the laboring man has.

"I do not know that the men who signed away their rights did so with criminal intent. The idea of those who voted for a shorter day was that the laborer should receive the same compensation as when he worked a longer day."

Speaking of wages, Mr. Sproule said that it was ridiculous to offer a man $1.60 a day. "I would not insult a boy by offering him $1.60 a day; no laboring man should work for less than $2.50 a day," he said.

"If the laws are for and by the people," he said, "why not stand for them. I often wonder why lawyers will insist on always interpreting the law against the laborer."

"Standing here for law and order I say what we need is education, to stand up for our rights. My position is just as easily jeopardized as is the position of the other man, but I have the courage of my conviction and I am here to voice them.

"It is not because of the shortening of the hours of the laboring man, or extravagant wages that have brought the city, as they tell us, to the verge of bankruptcy."

MR. DENNIS HEALEY.

Dennis Healey, of the Leather Workers, was the next speaker. He said that the right-hour day was a sacred thing to the laboring man, and went into a detailed explanation of how the eight-hour day was brought about.

"There is no question as to this being a law and constitutionally adopted. The power of the legislature extended to the citizens made the eight-hour law.

"The complaint has come to the Trades and Labor council that the eight-hour law is being violated in the street department and the police department."

Mayor Farnham said: "Referring to your communication I have called the attention of heads of departments to the subject matter in question. Of course we must take our law from the city solicitor.

"He tells us that he does not find that the police come under the eight-hour law and that the men, comlained about in the street or sewer department, have a right to work more than eight hours if they so desire."

"Is it consistent," said Mr. Healey, "that the head of a department should allow a man to work more hours than is specified by the legislature as a work day? And if the man asks to work more than eight hours and the head of the department or superintendent allows him so to do, wouldn't it appeal to you as a conspiracy, or collusion, to defeat the law?"

"I have taken the opinion of the city solicitor," said Mayor Farnham, "and I don't see that I can go any further."

"We have taken the matter to this point," said Mr. Healey, "hoping that you would move a step farther."

FRANK M. BILL.

Frank M. Bill was the last speaker and he expressed the opinion that the mayor should not be guided by the opinion of the city solicitor in the absence of authority from the courts.

The hearing closed when Mr. Bill had finished.

READ THIS

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Clearola ½ oz. Ether 1 oz. Alcohol 7 ozs. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and Brilliant Complexion."

THE ROOSEVELT

Starts for North Pole Next Monday

NEW YORK, July 2.—Commander Robert E. Peary is to make another attempt to locate the North pole. The steamer Roosevelt, built for him by the Peary Arctic Club and which carried his party and him to the far north on the last expedition, next Monday will begin her northward voyage.

Peary will join his party at Sydney, C. B., where the Roosevelt will stop to take on coal. He had planned to have his ship leave New York yesterday, but the uncertainty of raising the $50,000 necessary to finance the expedition caused the delay.

"If everything is now arranged for the trip," said Commander Peary yesterday, on his return from his trip to Maine, "excepting that something over $5000 is needed to complete the fund necessary to provide the essential equipment.

"If I do not obtain that I shall have to curb the equipment to that extent. However, I am hopeful that the entire amount will be raised before I leave. I have anticipations that every material object I consider necessary to permit us to get farthest north will be provided before the Roosevelt steams out of port."

During the day supplies were taken aboard and stowed away in the steamer's hold. The Roosevelt has been thoroughly overhauled and a picked crew of hardy Newfoundlanders, with Captain Robert A. Bartlett of Brigus, as sailing master, is awaiting the signal to start. A collier will accompany the Roosevelt as far north as Etah.

Peary's plans for his coming expedition, aside from placing the stars and stripes at the North pole, include researches into the north coasts of Grant Land and Greenland. He will follow practically the same route as he did on his first trip, but his tactics will be different and he will utilize the "drift method" so that the moving ice will not carry him beyond the line of his goal. He has planned carefully to overcome many of the obstacles which were encountered in former expeditions, especially the "big lead" for open water, which nearly caused the death of himself and his little band on their return from "the farthest north."

Eskimos and dogs will be taken aboard in the Whale Sound region as before, and Peary will endeavor to force the Roosevelt to the same or similar winter quarters on the north side of Grant Land as in the winter of 1905-1906.

INDIANA PARTY

Called on Bryan at Lincoln, Today

LINCOLN, Neb., July 2.—John Kern of Indiana, heading a party composed of Messrs. Lamb, Jackson, Padgett and Riley, arrived here early today on the Rock Island Limited. The Indiana party will leave for Denver this afternoon after a call on Mr. Bryan at Fairview. Mr. Kern declared emphatically that he is not a candidate for vice-president but refused to say what he would do were the convention to nominate him without his seeking the place.

Mr. Kern was asked what the platform will contain. He answered:

"I have no statement to make now concerning this matter, further than to say that both convention and platform will be all Bryan."

Mr. Kern thought he might have something to say concerning this matter after calling on Mr. Bryan later in the day. While it was Mr. Kern's intention on going to the hotel to leave this afternoon for Denver an effort will be made to have him remain over for the banquet to be given Friday night by the Bryan Traveling Men's club.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Fire in a Merrimack St. Building

IT STARTED IN A CLOSET

Cause of the Fire Not Known

An alarm from box 55 about eight o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the Deziel block, 770 Merrimack street. The cause of the fire is unknown and but for the prompt response and work of the firemen, the building might have been gutted.

The tenement where the fire broke out is occupied by Mathias Peloquin and Joseph Arbour and their families on the second floor. The members of both families were out at the time. The fire started in a closet back of the kitchen stove. There was no fire in the stove during the evening.

When the department arrived there was a lively blaze in the interior of the house. The woodwork and walls were damaged and the closet was destroyed. Other rooms in the tenement were damaged by smoke and water.

The agency of Frank M. Brogan held the insurance on the building and furniture of Cornelius O'Neil.

Open Friday night. Roy & O'Heir.

AT THE CREASE.

The North Billerica cricket team will journey to Maynard next Saturday, July 4, when it will play the Maynard boys in a friendly game. The following are scheduled to play the North Billerica: A. Marsden, captain; H. B. Ellis, vice captain; C. H. Bailey, B. Southam, A. Simpson, W. Haslam, W. Bellington, J. T. Whitehead, J. T. Holmes, Cunliffe, Fairbrother; reserves, G. Pickup and Frank Townson. Umpire, William Buckley; scorer, Francis Collinge. Players are requested to connect with the car leaving Merrimack square at 10.40, when the Billerica delegation will join at the post office at Billerica.

Owing to Saturday being a holiday, there will be no regular game at Mohair park, but the members will celebrate in the afternoon with a basket picnic at the grounds with their friends and families. A committee is making arrangements for entertainment and those wishing supper at the arrangements to leave GCOL club house can make the necessary arrangements to have same. Messrs. Bird and Priestley will attend the state league game at Providence which promises to be keenly contested.

FIRES WERE SET

Two Buildings in Newfield Destroyed

NEWFIELD, Me., July 2.—The burning of two sets of buildings in as many days and suspicious circumstances attending the second fire have stirred up the residents of this town and caused the town officials to begin a thorough investigation.

Early yesterday morning the town farm buildings situated between Newfield and West Newfield were burned to the ground and there was no apparent cause for the fire other than it was of incendiary origin. The loss was $2500 with a small insurance.

This morning at about the same time, 2.30 o'clock, the general store of J. Moulton & Son was burned together with its $5000 stock. An hour before he discovered his building was ablaze Harry Moulton heard a carriage stop near the store but he thought nothing of the incident until afterward. When he discovered the fire it was beyond control and nothing was saved. The loss on the building was $2000.

Open Friday night. Roy & O'Heir.

PAINFUL INJURY

Window Fell on Man's Head

Austibes Karckals, residing at 465 Market street, and employed in a laundry in Fletcher street, met with a painful accident yesterday. He was leaning out of a window when the upper sash slipped from its catches and fell on him, inflicting a bad gash on the forehead. He was taken to Chalmerson's drug store, where his head was bandaged and the ambulance summoned. Upon the arrival of the ambulance he was taken to the Lowell hospital, where it was found necessary to take four stitches in the wound.

GREAT WINNINGS

Ballot Has Passed the $100,000 Mark

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 2.—Ballot by winning the Suburban handicap passed the $100,000 winning mark and made the fifth horse within four years to enter this charmed circle in the colors of James R. Keene. This is the third season that Ballot has been on the turf, he having as a rival in his two and three year old form the successful racer Salvidere, which probably accounts for the son of Voter not becoming a $100,000 winner as a three-year-old last season. As a two-year-old in 1906 Salvidere earned $52,780 to Ballot's $31,935, but as a three-year-old in 1907 Salvidere won only $40,618, while Ballot took $63,218. The winnings of Ballot during the last two weeks also place his sire, Voter, within the list of greatest money winning sires in 1908, which is composed of stallions whose get have won more than $15,000.

During the season of 1908 twelve two-year-olds have won more than $5000 on the turf. Four of these youngsters belong to John E. Madden and were bred at his Hamburg Place stud near this city; two are the property of James R. Keene. The largest money winning two-year-old of the season is Madden's Sir Martin; J. R. Keene's Trance is second and Madden's Fayette is third. The following is a list of two-year-olds winning more than $5000: Sir Martin, $23,075; Trance, $13,767; Fayette, $12,500; Lee Rose, $7015; Melissa, $6765; Rose Queen, $6720; Lawton Wiggins, $5650; Marse Abe, $5655; Fitz Herbert, $5575; Joe Madden, $5495; Personal, $5480, and Melisande, $5390.

W. J. Roe of Oshkosh, Wis., has sent to M. S. Cohen, Kentucky's leading handler and exhibitor of saddle and harness horses, his champion five-year-old saddle stallion Bourbon Prince to be prepared and exhibited at all the principal horse shows this season. Bourbon Prince's show career has been quite noted, winding up at New York last year, where at the Madison Square Garden show he was crowned champion for the best five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding of any age.

WILDER SECOND

In Golf Play at Country Club

BOSTON, July 2.—Leading a field of 28 in the first half of the state open championship meeting at the Country club yesterday, Alex Ross got a good grip on the title that he already has held for two years. Tied with J. G. Anderson at 74 for third place at the end of the morning round, he led by the narrow margin of one stroke at the end of 36 holes, with a total of 146.

In the second place is David Brown, the veteran gold professional and carpenter, who has 147, and next to him comes H. H. Wilder of Harvard and Vesper, who has tied with the Lawrence player. Then come the two Campbells, Andrew and Alex, with 149 and 150, respectively.

ADVANCE STAKES

Won by Ballot Who Broke Record

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, N. Y., July 2.—James R. Keene's Ballot, a son of Voter, yesterday added another stake to his already long list when he easily won the Advance stakes, worth $11,750 to the winner, here yesterday. He also made a new world's record for the distance, one mile and five-sixteenths, in 21:09 3-5, which is one second faster than the record held jointly by Bedouin and Ironsides.

DIAMOND NOTES

Frank Shannon would make a good man for Fall River.

The all-conquering Lawrence bunch will play tomorrow. Lowell will play at Lawrence Saturday morning and Lawrence will come here in the afternoon.

Mike O'Brien, Lowell's left fielder who is reporting here every day under advice of Pres. Murnane, has applied to the National board for his release on the ground that Winn after reserving him offered him a contract with a cut of $100 per month in salary. Winn has declined to release O'Brien which prevents him playing in the organized baseball world.

Lowell will play Lawrence here on Friday.

A big delegation of Lowell fans went down to Glen Forest yesterday afternoon to witness the double header between Lynn and Lawrence.

Tommy Devine, the clever Lawrence player, has received a tempting offer to manage the Fitchburg Independent team.

Billy Connors is making a hit along the circuit as a good umpire.

An excited fan came to the writer after the game Tuesday and said: "Say, you aught to give Winn a knock in the paper. When Greenwell hit a player in the back. Winn cried out: "Hit them in the head, if you're going to hit 'em." All we can say is, Naughty Winn! Ain't it awful Maudlet?

Uniac has a very graceful way of getting after a ground ball. And he has also a very graceful way of missing some of them. Not many though, not enough to kick about.

Zinssar is getting to be a regular Artie Latham on the coach line.

The suspension of Umpire Joe O'Brien comes rather as a surprise since he has been uniformly good all over the circuit. Unless there is something radically wrong he will be reinstated. Lawrence American.

Saturday morning's game at Worcester with Haverhill will start at 11 o'clock, the late start being made so that persons wishing to see the parade of the temperance societies may see the entire game. The afternoon game will probably not be started till four o'clock.

Mike Fisher of San Francisco is to take a team of American ball players to Japan in November. They will also go to Hongkong, Shanghai, on to Manila, then back to Honolulu. Mike says he has numbers of applicants for the trip.

Tommy Devine is negotiating with the owners of the Fitchburg club for the management of the same. He expects to take hold of the team today or tomorrow. The only thing to be settled is that of salary and this is said to be satisfactory to Tommy.

Speaking of home runs. They have about $100 offered to the Brockton players for home runs made in Brockton. The first fellow that scores one on the Brockton grounds will receive that amount in money and clothing. That's certainly showing baseball enthusiasm.

Mickey Flynn is leading the league at stealing bases. He is just two ahead of Kid Hickman. Flynn is certainly proving to be a fast man on his feet.

his feet. Hickman has one record safely at his disposal, however, and that is for fielding. He leads the league at second base with an average of .935 and is welting the ball with the best of them. Lawrence American.

The Haverhill games for Friday afternoon and Saturday morning were transferred here on account of the team being unable to make good train connections for the games as originally scheduled with Friday afternoon's and Saturday morning's games in Haverhill and the afternoon game here. Manager Steve Flanagan of the Brockton team is quoted as objecting to the transfer of the games to Worcester as he thinks that it will give the Worcester team an advantage in the pennant race. Flanagan seriously believes that his Brockton team has a chance to win the pennant this year. Worcester Post.

CONNOR RELEASED

FALL RIVER CAPTAIN RELEASED BY DIRECTORS.

FALL RIVER, July 2.—Capt. Jim Connor of this city, formerly of the Grays, retired from the Fall River team after the game with Worcester in Fall River Monday afternoon. Action requiring his release was taken by the board of directors at a meeting held Monday night, and Manager O'Brien was instructed to carry out the wishes of the directorate. The board was unanimous in its decision, it is stated.

In reaching this decision the board accepted the opinions of many stockholders. While the poor showing of the team was not attributed to Connor alone, it was the feeling in the corporation that he should be retired because so many had expressed the conviction that this was necessary to bolster up waning interest in the club. Also, some stockholders felt that a younger man would get better results at second base. In justice to Connor, it should be said that he has played good ball since he joined the team. Connor could not step around as lively as many others, but what he lacked in that respect he made up otherwise. That his generalship has saved many games cannot be denied.

Confidence in the team may be restored with this and other changes which are contemplated. Nevertheless there is one condition noted by close observers of the team's work, and that is that generally when dumb or loose playing has cost games, not Connor, but other members of the team who are much more popular were at fault. These players have often been advised, but they seemed to have quickly forgotten the instructions which were given them.

Manager O'Brien went to New Bedford yesterday to try to effect a trade with Haverhill. He would like to get Frankie Shannon, the former Lowell shortstop, or Jimmy Barton, and he might take both if he could get them. There is likely to be a little more shifting about before the week is out, also.

A special meeting of stockholders has been called for next Tuesday night, at the request of a number of the shareholders, to discuss affairs generally.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

"Good Roads and Uniform Legislation" is the slogan with which Buffalo will resound on July 7 and 8 during the convention to be held there. The words quoted will be seen in red and white lettering on thousands of blue pennants made for the occasion. Additional delegates appointed from Western states are: By Gov. John C. Cutler of Utah—The Hon. D. R. Roberts. By Gov. Henry A. Buchtel of Colorado—Dr. F. L. Bartlett, E. A. Colburn, G. H. Fernald, George E. Hannan, J. Hervey Nichols, Jr., A. T. Wilson, W. S. Hunnewell, E. L. Mathewson and D. M. Howell.

In addition to the club delegates from sixteen other states the following have been appointed: Automobile club of Pittsburg, Pittsburg, Pa.—Edward J. Kent, M. F. Leslie and S. A. Stewart. Automobile club of Hartford, Conn.—Walter S. Schutz.

The automobile clubs at Springfield and Pittsfield, in Massachusetts, have been working hard to secure the improvement of the Jacob's Ladder road in the Berkshires and immediate betterment is promised. The big rocks that make the road so dangerous for automobiles are to be removed by digging or dynamite and the surface of the road is to be covered with gravel. Ditches are to be dug along the sides of the road so that the rains will not wash the road away after it has been fixed up.

Consul Maxwell Blake Dunfermline reports as follows concerning the new problems which confront municipalities and county councils throughout Great Britain, where the expenditure for road construction and maintenance is increasing at an alarming rate.

Traction engines, but more especially the various types of motor cars, are held to be largely responsible for the increased cost of road maintenance, against which the taxpayers are loudly protesting. Various ways of relieving the situation are suggested. The Motor Car union requests the government to set aside in a general fund all money collected from the taxation of motor cars out of which grants can be made to local authorities toward meeting the increased cost of construction and maintenance wherever the evidence justifies the conclusions that the drainage complained of was the result of motor car traffic. Others suggest that a graduated toll, according to distance travelled, be collected from motor cars, and still others advocate direct grants by the government.

The very satisfactory means of obviating the dust nuisance on motor roads used for the past year was a surface spray of tar, but as this costs about $150 to $250 per mile of road sprayed, and at best is but temporary palliative treatment rather than a permanent or preserving one, it is being given up and an effort is being made to substitute tar macadam instead.

Tar macadam, it is claimed by some, is destined to solve the entire problem of road construction, and its practical results to date go a long way toward justifying this prophecy. For the best results of this method a coarse or hard porous stone must be used, well baked to extract all moisture before mixing with the tar preparation. When mixed it is laid about five inches thick upon a well prepared foundation, and when sufficiently rolled it gives a smooth surface, a compact body resisting dampness, frost and hard wear, and as it does not require so much camber to shed water it is consequently a better road to travel on.

The cost of tar macadam, applied to a mile of road 20 feet wide, laid upon a rock bottom works out at about $7,250. Such a piece of roadway should last, I am told, for at least twenty years, at an average cost of $55 per mile per annum for maintenance. As a comparison with the cost of ordinary macadam it is unfortunately high, but it is said that in spite of this great difference in cost the use of the tar macadam works out the more economically of the two. The tar macadam costs about 55 cents per square yard.

Miss Mamie Thibodeau of Hood farm and Miss Annie Barr will sail from Boston, Sunday, July 5th, for an extended vacation in Nova Scotia. They will be the guests of their parents in Weymouth and will return the last of September.

PLATFORM FIGHT

Will Be Big Feature of the Democratic Convention

Judge Gray Can Have Vice-Presidential Nomination If He Wants It—If He Declines, the Nomination Will Go to a New York Man

2 COL HD—PLATFORM FIGHT

DENVER, Colo., July 2—For the first time in the history of national conventions, an attempt will be made in connection with the democratic convention to be held here next week to moderate the temperature of the hall by the use of snow. Preparations are already under way for that experiment.

Although the date for the opening of the convention is almost a week removed, Denver considers herself in readiness for the event and while no one can estimate the number of strangers who may be attracted to the city, there is not a resident but that will assure you that all will be well cared for. Some concede that the hotel accomodations may fall short of the requirements, but if such should prove to be the case, the private citizens generally stand ready to throw open their houses for the accomodation of the visitors. Without regard to political affiliations, the people manifest the utmost appreciation of the compliment paid them in locating the convention in Denver, and they unanimously declare their intention to so conduct themselves that Denver will become a convention city and be recognized as such from the beginning.

HOTELS REMODELLED.

In anticipation of the coming of thousands from the east, there has been a general house cleaning. Many of the hotels have been remodelled, the streets have been repaired and private residences have been burnished up. The railroads have increased their passenger facilities and the telegraph companies are doing their best to justify the claim that Denver is a telegraph centre which was made when the invitation for the convention was decided. There is no doubt that the housing and feeding capacity of the city will be well tested for the reports from the railroad companies indicate the probability that the attendance will be large. As a rule the convention delegates and public men will be taken care of in the hotels but many other visitors will probably find it necessary to find accomodation in boarding houses and private residences. They will, however, be looked after by the local committees which guarantee that visitors will be properly treated in all respects.

Probably the most marked evidence of preparation which is to be found, is in the new convention hall, a magnificent structure, which has been erected in the heart of the city at a cost of $400,000. It is a permanent building, but it will be christened by the convention and it is even now in readiness for the reception of delegates. So nicely was the work of the hall calculated that the building has just been completed. If necessary the big meeting could be begin tomorrow.

The chairs in the main auditorium and the far reaching galleries are all in and decorations already render the interior picturesque and attractive.

PICTURE OF CLEVELAND.

A picture of Grover Cleveland which will adorn one end of the building will be one of four only that will be given space in the enclosure. The policy is to place in the hall only the likenesses of departed democrats but an exception is made in the case of George Washington if he can be called an exception. Washington's portrait finds a place immediately over the seat of the chairman and is flanked on the right by the picture of Jackson and on the left by that of Jefferson. Cleveland's portrait will face all of the others from the far end of the hall. The proverbial democratic rooster will give place to the eagle and there will be many specimens of that bird. They are already in place and all cluster about the platform of the presiding officer. They are in both flying and sitting attitudes and would really look very lifelike but for the decorations in the way of national colors and other devices which have been liberally bestowed on them.

All told the hall is one of the most complete for its size in the country.

Denver has been drier in the point of weather this summer than usual and also warmer, and a device has been hit upon which it is believed will both moisten and cool the atmosphere. This result is to be accomplished by introducing snow from the mountains in liberal quantities, which will be distributed through the hall in barrels. The confident expectation is that it will vastly improve the atmosphere and at least prove a novelty to the visitors from the states in which snow in the summer is unknown. The hall will seat 12,000 persons.

Every succeeding day emphasizes the fact that in many respects the approaching convention will be a duplicate of the recent republican convention at Chicago and two of the most pronounced features of similarity will be the contests over the vice presidency and the injunction plank in the platform.

As was the case with Senator Dolliver, Judge Gray is the leading candidate if he can be culled such in the face of his assertion to the contrary and as in the former case he has the support of the leading candidate for first place. A sentiment has so far crystalized among the democrats of prominence now in the city that the Delaware jurist is a decided favorite and all agree that if he will accept the nomination he can have it without serious opposition. Mr. Bryan is unequivocally for him and delegates from all sections express satisfaction at the mention of his name. If Judge Gray should decline, the consensus of opinion is favorable to throwing the office to New York. As was the case at Chicago the ultimatum has already gone forth that if New York wants the compliment she must show her good faith by getting together and agreeing upon a candidate as the republicans did upon Mr. Sherman. Again there is division and in addition to the names of Stanchfield and Harrison the name of Charles A. Towne is not infrequently mentioned and his friends are making strenuous claims in his behalf.

Unless there is a decidedly greater tendency toward compromise than is now manifested the real fight will be over the injunction plank, but the leaders declare that before the committee on platform is appointed a substantial agreement will have been reached. In Chicago the fight was against the insertion of any injunction plank at all; here all admit the necessity of some declaration but many oppose the pronouncement for previous notice in injunction proceedings. There has been much communion with Mr. Bryan on this point but apparently his attitude is not clearly understood and probably it will not be until his draft of the platform, which he is understood to be preparing, is received.

It is known, however, that he would use stronger language than is employed in the republican platform. That he is willing to go as far as the federation of labor demands none is willing to say but his closest friends say that he does not consider it necessary to make such a sweeping declaration.

MISS BOTTS

ARRESTED FOR TAKING EMPLOYER'S MONEY.

Miss Botts, a young woman, was arrested in Boston yesterday. She is accused of theft, in having received a check for $85 from a customer of her employer April 6. She made out a receipted bill, but neglected to put the check in the firm's account, her employer claims, but cashed it herself. It was drawn on a Lowell bank and cashed at a Boston store. She was located in Chicago through information given by a friend.

SPEAKER CANNON

To Call on Secretary Taft Today

WASHINGTON, July 2.—This was a day of physical effort and serious mental strain of conferences for Judge William H. Taft. He is making all arrangements to leave Washington for Hot Springs, Va., tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. Meantime he desires to dispose of a great accumulation of correspondence.

Speaker Cannon who arrived in Washington last night said today that he came to attend to some legislation business but expected to call on Judge Taft during the day. A harmonious working agreement between the two eminent republican leaders is assured.

It is expected that Judge Taft and Frank Hitchcock may have a conference during the day; but thus far no engagement for it has been made and it may go over until tomorrow.

Judge Taft has retained a desk and some chairs in the library of his dismantled K street residence and there he will work until his departure from Washington.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The court has joined the grand court funeral fund. It also took action on Brother Meagher's death. Great interest was displayed in the announcement of Foresters' day at Mountain Rock, Aug. 15, and tickets for the same were generously distributed among the members.

Gen. N. P. Banks Circle, No. 25, Ladies of the G. A. R., held its regular session in Memorial hall, G. A. R., last night. Mrs. Elvira E. Galdwin, president, presiding. Put This Stove in Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The

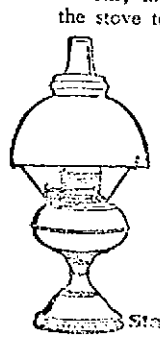
is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.



The Rayo Lamp is the ideal lamp for family use—safe, convenient, economical and a great light giver. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

EIGHT MONTHS

Omega Wade Will Stop Squirting Ammonia

Omega R. Wade, the aged recluse who entered the Richardson hotel last Friday afternoon and squirted ammonia into the eyes and mouth of John Roarke, one of the hotel employes, was arraigned in police court before Judge Hadley and sentenced to eight months in jail.

Wade appeared to be cool and collected and cared neither to cross-examine witnesses for the government nor testify in his own behalf. When he was informed by the court that the offense was a very serious one he paid little or no heed to what the court was saying.

Roarke, the complainant, testified in part as follows: "I am 21 years of age and employed at the Richardson hotel. Friday afternoon about three o'clock I was in the barber shop when Wade came in and asked me if I would play a game of pool with him. I did not care about playing and told him so. I had just finished cleaning the barber shop and went down stairs to wash my hands. He followed me down and just as I was going to wipe my hands he squirted something into my eyes and mouth. I afterwards heard it was ammonia."

Witness then testified to being taken to the office of Dr. Ramlett in Middlesex street and later to St. John's hospital. While Roarke wears a shief over the right eye and is unable to open the eye he informed the court that the doctors told him his sight would not be damaged.

Martin A. Coughlin, an employe of the hotel, corroborated the testimony offered by Roarke, adding that no words passed between Wade and Roarke in the basement and that as soon as Wade committed the act he ran upstairs and into the street. Coughlin gave chase and catching him held him till Patrolman Cawley arrived.

Patrolman Cawley testified to arresting Wade and upon searching his clothing found a bottle containing ammonia and a part of a syringe. The officer testified that Wade seemed to take a great deal of pride in what he had done.

The government rested its case at this point.

"Do you want to tell your story?" asked Deputy Welch of Wade.

"No, I have no story to tell."

"Why did you do this?"

"I have nothing to say about it."

Judge Hadley then inquired: "Do you want to say anything to me?"

"No, sir."

"You have been in the house of correction?"

"Yes."

"How long?"

"Six months."

"What were you sent there for?"

"I suppose for being drunk."

"This is a very severe offense," said Judge Hadley; "now do you want to say anything about it?"

"No, sir."

Wade was sentenced to eight months in jail.

MILKMAN FINED.

Charles J. Johnson, a milkman in Tewksbury, was in court this morning charged with violating the milk laws, having milk in his possession with less than 12 per cent. of solids. He was fined $15.

SENT TO STATE FARM.

James Smith pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but informed the court that if he was given another chance he would sail for England and never return to this country. It was his third offense within a year and he was sentenced to the state farm.

TWO WEEKS IN JAIL.

Patrick J. Burns, who was before the court a few days ago, was present this morning and the court decided that it would be better to impose a sentence than a fine. Patrick will spend the next two weeks in jail.

SENT TO JAIL.

Richard Davis was charged with being drunk, but he was on the verge of seeing fireworks before the Fourth and the court sentenced him to 14 days in jail.

John Foley, a second offender, was taxed $6. There were five drunks who were fined $2 each and three were released.

THE WILSON CASE

Police to Question a Woman Today

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—It is expected that a woman who was close to Dr. William Wilson who died last Friday after drinking a bottle of poisoned ale will be questioned today regarding certain circumstances in connection with the case. It is understood that no arrest or accusation will be made but that the woman will be put through a severe examination.

It has developed that the coroner's detectives who have been working on the case practically alone since last week have been unable to trace the package alleged to have contained the ale. The detectives are still looking up the life of Dr. Wilson. In addition to having learned that he had been an oyster opener before he began practicing medicine, they have asserted that the widow of the physician was his second wife. It has not yet been learned whether the first Mrs. Wilson is dead.

BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON, July 2.—The usual midsummer dullness prevailed today in trading on the Boston market. The tone was firm.

KIDNAPPED SON

That is the Charge Against George F. Ormsby

BOSTON, July 2.—A chase, novel in many phases and of interest to Cincinnati and the District of Columbia, was yesterday ended at Newburyport, where early in the day, George F. Ormsby was arrested as a fugitive from justice from Washington.

The charge against Ormsby, who is a well-appearing man about 50 years old, employed in one of the federal departments at the capital, alleges the abduction or kidnapping of his own child.

The little one, a boy named Edmund, H. B. Ormsby, who is 3½ years old, it appears, was taken from Washington on June 16 last and taken to Salisbury beach, where he has been cared for by two nurses employed by the father the past two weeks.

It is said that after leaving Washington, Ormsby took the child to Greenwich, Conn., and remained there several days. His appearance there excited the suspicions of the police, but before they could find out anything about him he left and came to Boston.

From here he went to Newburyport and thence to Salisbury beach, where he secured lodgings for the child with Mrs. Aldrich, representing that his name was Wilson Owens of Richmond, Va., and that he was well to do.

Strangely enough the child had but little clothing and this excited the suspicions of Mrs. Aldrich and she communicated with the police. Chief Watts was notified and then set a trap to catch the father, who was believed to be in the vicinity.

Ormsby was arrested in a department store by Marshal Lattimee of Newburyport and Deputy U. S. Marshal Ruhl.

U. S. Marshal Murchie was notified and he reported that an indictment warrant had just been received from Washington for the apprehension of the alleged fugitive.

Late in the afternoon Ormsby in the custody of Deputy Ruhl was brought here and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hayes in the federal building. While in court he appeared calm and his whole demeanor was that of a loving father and the last man in the world that would do an injury to any one.

Lawyer Arthur T. Johnson appeared with him as counsel and the procedure involved the holding of the defendant for his appearance before the U. S. court at Washington to answer the indictment.

Further consideration of the case before the commissioner was continued to this morning, bail being fixed at $1000, which the defendant readily furnished in the form of a certified check drawn to himself through the Old Colony Trust company. The check was accepted by Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. J. Bernard Ferber, who appeared for the government.

The child was taken in charge by Inspector Gleavy of the Boston police and brought to this city. He is now with the matron of the Chardon street home.

As the father left the federal building he met Inspector Gleavy with the child in his arms. The father was almost frantic, and quite a scene followed in front of the old state house on Washington street about 5 o'clock. Ormsby begged for his child and promised the officer he would see that it got the best of care, and with tears in his eyes beseeched the officer to give it to him.

"NELLIE" IS SOLD

McElholm's Celebrated Steed Sold by City

AFTER EIGHT YEAR'S SERVICE

For Exactly What "Mac" Paid For Him

"Nellie," the chestnut mayor formerly driven by Former Wire Inspector McElholm and more recently by Supt. of Charities Courtney, was sold at public auction last week, and thereby hangs a tale.

Ten years ago Deputy Sheriff Stiles brought "Nellie," a full bred Morgan mare, from the wilds of New Hampshire and for two years drove her himself. Then he sold the animal to Mr. McElholm for $150. When the city appropriated money for a horse for the wire inspector Mr. McElholm sold her to the city for $150, just what he had paid for her and drove her in connection with the duties of his office from that time on.

A few years ago the committee on wires was of the opinion that the wire inspector could get along without a horse and thought that if they could save the price of the animal's board they would be regarded as economists. Ex-Alderman Derby, then on the committee on wires, advocated the abandonment of the horse and made the statement at a meeting that the animal had practically outlived its usefulness and wasn't worth more than $25. For some reason the mare was retained in the service until Mr. McElholm was succeeded by the present inspector, Mr. Foster, who stated that he did not need a horse in his business, though he is now trying to get one, and "Nellie" was transferred to the charities department and was driven by the superintendent until last week when she was put up at auction and she was sold for $150, the exact amount that the city paid for her eight years ago.

Coming generations will rise up and call Mr. McElholm blessed as one city official who engineered a horse deal with the municipality without "soaking" the taxpayers.

"Nellie" will be recalled as the picturesque beast which figured in a number of "pathetic" cartoons in The Sun at the time when the committee on wires was trying to discharge her from the city's employ.

BODY OF A MAN

Found in the Woods at Tiverton, R. I.

TIVERTON, R. I., July 2.—A boy wandering in the woods outside of the town late yesterday found the body of a well dressed man. Medical Examiner Stimson was notified and investigated. He found the man had been shot through the heart and a revolver, from which one shot had been fired, was found some distance away. The man's pockets were turned inside out and there was nothing on the body by which identification could be made.

The man was about 45 years old, five feet, 9 inches in height and weighed 175 pounds. He had black hair, a sandy moustache and a pug nose.

The medical examiner would not say whether he considered the case one of suicide or not and will continue his investigation.

TEMPERANCE WAVE

Brewers Start One and Blacklists Are Posted

FITCHBURG, July 2.—The mighty reformation of the liquor business in this country as planned by the brewers and distillers, by which intoxicating drink may be sold to none but those who wish refreshment and not inebriation, had its exemplification in this city and surrounding towns today, when in every saloon was posted a black list of persons convicted of intoxfication since May 1.

It is the first New England taste of the proposed new regime, which, if universally supported, is expected to solve the problem of intemperance.

By the rules of the brewers no person who is addicted to drink, or any who drink to become intoxicated, may be served. Neither may a man or woman who has ever been arrested and convicted of drunkenness obtain liquor. Those free to quaff the product must have in mind only a desire for the refreshment the one drink provides.

The lists posted here are long ones, and in order that the rule may be complied with literally, each patron of a drinking place is required to tell the barkeeper his name. Then, upon receiving his glass, he may drink it, but call for no more.

By adhering to the plan they have formulated and refusing to sell liquor to dealers who do not live up to the rule, the brewers believe that the evil of drunkenness will be lessened and possibly done away with.

In this city the saloon keepers say today that they are working in conjunction with the police and are not averse to the scheme. The black lists will be carefully corrected at stated intervals, and the authorities are determined that the habitual drinkers shall be given no loophole.

Now the heavy drinkers in this city are busy devising means to get around the iron-clad rule in vogue.

Though the movement means at the beginning a big cut in profits for the dealers in liquor, through the fact that the heaviest spenders are ruled out, yet the saloon-keepers welcome the proposition for the effect it will have upon their business in its standing as a legitimate enterprise.

They believe that if the plan works well and is adopted in all places in the country that have licensed saloons, it will revolutionize the liquor trade, and place it on a more respectable plane than it now enjoys.

The brewers maintain that it is to their advantage and to the advantage of the retail dealers that something drastic be done to eliminate from liquor custom the class of men who pour their earnings over the bar, but who also are living examples of the horror of the licensed sale of drink.

DEPOSED RECTOR

Receives Warning From Young Woman

WASHINGTON, July 2.—After ten years of silence a deposed minister of the Episcopal church will publicly proclaim in this city today his innocence of an act which has cast a shadow over the life of a young woman, a communicant in his church. The Rev. Gilbert Fearing Williams, for nine years rector of Christ Episcopal church in Washington, is the man. The name of the woman is withheld. The minister stoutly denies the parentage of her child, while the woman declares the minister to have been the father of the child, which long ago died. She denounces the purpose of Mr. Williams to bring the case to public notice and declares that if he mentions her name or reads the record of his trial before the ecclesiastical court she will swear to a warrant for his arrest.

GREAT SUCCESS

Was the Meeting of Educators

CLEVELAND, O., July 2.—After electing general officers for the coming year, members of the National Education association today rested from their labors. Department meetings continued but there was no general session. The day was given over to sightseeing. From an educational standpoint this year's convention has been an unusual success, but the attendance has dropped much below that which was anticipated.

First Catarrh Then Bronchitis Then Consumption

This is the order through which passes a man who dies of consumption. He would be well today had he heeded the beginning of his diseases when it was curable. The mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs is the same, and an inflammation beginning in the nose is liable and very often does proceed from the nose to the throat and from there to the bronchial tubes and the lung cells. Finally there comes a time when it is too late to do anything. Then regrets begin. When it is too late we always look back and wish we had done differently, and in no other condition is this so true as in the long lingering chronic diseases which precede death. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Eternal care is the price of hale and hearty health in a long life.

Stop that CATARRH where it is. Be careful of that little cough. It is only a cough today, but what will it be in two months' time? Do not wait for a hemorrhage, do not wait for night sweats to appear. Look after these things now and you will have no reason for regrets. An early death-bed will not be made miserable by thinking of wasted opportunities. If there is anything the trouble with you, look after it today. Come and see our specialists. Let them examine you. Let them tell you the trouble regarding your case.

THIS SERVICE IS FREE. IT COSTS YOU NOTHING.

BRONCHITIS and CONSUMPTION

"For nine years I had CONSUMPTION and BRONCHITIS. I coughed day and night; it seemed at times that I would strangle. I had night sweats, lost flesh and had hemorrhages. Finally, I got so weak that I had to give up my work, and I was the most miserable feeling man in the world.

"I spent lots of money with many doctors, but none cured me. In fact, they told me frankly that my case could not be cured. Finally, I was recommended to the specialists at BOSTON CLINIC, and they cured me. I no longer cough. I have no hemorrhages, no night sweats. I have gained so that I am back to my old weight and have gone back to my work. I feel now as well as I ever did in my life, and I want all my friends to know that these doctors cured me. I am putting this in the papers, so that the whole world may know that these doctors saved my life. FRANK RICE.

You are at liberty to use this letter, and I hope it will induce others to try your treatment. I will gladly answer anyone wishing personal information, as I owe my good health to try your treatment. I will gladly

ARRESTED AS SPY

Man Said to be American Citizen

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Passengers who have just arrived here from southern ports tell of the arrest by officials of the Guatemalan government of H. Barrington, said to be an American citizen as a spy. The passengers say that they expect to hear that he has been put to death. They claim that the evidence against him was plain, he having papers in his possession which proved beyond doubt that he was a spy from Salvador and that he was in conspiracy against President Cabrera.

Saturday, July 4th, being a holiday, money should be deposited in the Five Cent Savings Bank on or before July 3rd in order to draw interest from this Quarter Day.

LOWELL IS GROWING

Any progressive business concern, particularly a public service corporation, must not only keep up to the times, but a good bit ahead of them as well. In this policy is secured a mutual satisfaction for customer and company alike. We trace the remarkable increase in our business during the past five years to the natural growth of Lowell industrially and financially. Local pessimists can take the other side of the street, but we prefer the sunny side, and are now preparing to handle a further growth of business.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

Our old method of reading consumers' meters and rendering gas bills the city over, the last few days of each month, does not fit present conditions and won't fit future conditions. So we are changing it.

GAS METERS AND GAS BILLS

Beginning July 1st our men will read meters each business day in different parts of the city, covering the entire city once a month. Bills for readings taken Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be delivered Wednesday afternoon, and bills for readings taken Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be delivered Saturday afternoon. Bills to be rendered during the first half of July will necessarily be for a partial month's consumption; but all bills will show the dates meters were read, so you may know exactly what you are paying.

Future readings of your meter will follow about every thirty days, beginning with the date of the July reading.

The bill comes to you inside of a day or two from the day of reading the meter, and you have a week in which to pay it and get the usual discount.

JULY GAS BILLS

Watch for your bill and pay it before the close of business on the date printed in large type on its face. Gas bills should be paid at the general office of the company, 22 Shattuck street, but payments will also be received at the offices and sug-agencies of the American Express Company located in your vicinity.

OFFICE HOURS

From July 1st, the general office will close Saturday at 12 o'clock, and on other business days be open from 8 a. m. to 5.30 p. m.

The Furniture Repairs

There is no better time to have them done than the summer months. While you are away the furniture can be sent to our workshop, where needed repairs and finishing will be done in a skilful and workmanship manner, at a less expense than we can do it during the busy fall season. We make this offer of a less price at this time to keep our men employed during July and August. Telephone to us and we will send the foreman to estimate the expense of your work.
